Recollections of the Early Settlers of Montgomery County, Alabama, by W. G. Robertson, reprinted in 1961, included the following regarding James Henry Judkins in a sketch of Jame's uncle Henry Lucas:

"HENRY LUCAS.

Henry Lucas moved from Georgia and settled a valuable plantation on the Tallapoosa river, not far from Mt. Meigs. When he left Georgia he was badly involved with debt to a bank called Daryan, but he soon settled with the bank and then commenced to make money very rapidly. He added land to land and negroes to negroes, and when he died he was the richest planter in the State. He had five separate plantations and probably as many hundred negroes. His plantations were known as the lower and upper Tallapoosa river plantations, the King plantation, the Line creek plantation and the Macon plantation, and a beautiful residence and homestead at Mt. Meigs. Mr. Lucas married a widow, Mrs. Taylor, daughter of Mr. Ross, as has been noticed in a previous chapter. She had two children by her first marriage. Before Mr. Lucas died he willed each separate plantation and everything on it, including negroes, stock, etc., as follows: He willed his lower river place to his wife's grand children, the Charles. The upper place, and the homestead at Mt. Meigs, he gave to James H. Judkins, his nephew. The King place he gave to Augustus Smith, who married a relative. The Line creek place he gave to Dr. Freeny, and his Macon county place to John Judkins. These parties are all dead except Augustus Smith and W. T. Charles. Mr. Lucas was a very eccentric and peculiar man in some respects. His sister had a very valuable plantation on the river, known as the Judkins Ferry place. She had three sons, Tom, John and James Judkins, and when she died the place was valued at sixty thousand dollars. The sons could not agree upon a settlement. Mr. Lucas interfered, and asked Tom what he would take for his interest in the estate and he told his uncle he would take twenty thousand. His uncle gave him a check for the amount. He then asked John what he would take and John replied that he would take the same, and his uncle gave him a check; and then turning to James, he said: "Now, Jimmy, I give it all to you." James was the favorite nephew of his uncle and transacted all of his uncle's financial affairs. Mr. Lucas died at a good old age. He had no children."

This record identifies the family of 1794 John Judkins of Surry County as follows:

Wife: _____ (_____) Judkins

Children:
1) John Judkins,
2) Jesse Judkins,
3) Mary Judkins,
4) Selah (Judkins) Davis,
5) Faithy (Judkins) Barham,
6) Sarah (Judkins) Slade,
7) Silvia Judkins, and
8) Benjamin Judkins,

Grandchildren:
1) John Hartwell Judkins, and
2) Hartwell Edwards.

3) William Judkins.

Southside Virginia Families, Volume II, "Judkins of Surry" stated that John Judkins, the son of 1760 John Judkins of Surry County, was probably the same person as the John Judkins whose will was probated in 1794 in Surry County, Virginia.

In her letter dated January 26, 1988, Kathi Abendroth enclosed family group sheets prepared by Mary Dent which stated that 1794 John Judkins was a son of 1760 John Judkins of Surry County and Martha (____) Judkins, married Rebecca ____, and that they had the following children:

1) Nicholas Judkins,
2) William Judkins,
3) Joseph Judkins,
4) Samuel Judkins,
5) Jesse Judkins,
6) Mary Judkins,
7) Selah (Judkins) Davis,
8) Tathy (Judkins) Barham,
9) Sarah (Judkins) Slade,
10) Silvia Judkins,
11) Benjamin Judkins.

However, as set forth below, the John Judkins who married Rebecca Barker was the son of 1790 William Judkins, not 1794 John Judkins.

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of 1794 John Judkins and ____ (____) Judkins were the following:

1) John Judkins,
2) Jesse Judkins, born before about 1765,
3) Mary Judkins,
4) Selah (Judkins) Davis,
5) Faithy (Judkins) Barham,
6) Sarah (Judkins) Slade,
7) Silvia Judkins, and

In her letter dated January 26, 1988, Kathi Abendroth enclosed family group sheets prepared by Mary Dent which stated that Nathaniel Judkins was a son of 1772 Benjamin Judkins of Surry County and Mary (Barham) Judkins and married Mary Lane and that his will was probated on February 23, 1824, and that they had the following child:

1) William Judkins, born in 1803.

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of 1823 Nathaniel Judkins and Mary (Lane) Judkins were the following:

1) probably Edmond or Edmund Judkins, born between 1790 and 1800 or in about 1805 in Virginia, and

2) William H. Judkins, born on March 25, 1803, or in about 1805 in Surry County, Virginia.

(A) Probably 1850 Edmond Or Edmund Judkins Of DeKalb County, Tennessee, His Wife Zilpha (Rice) Judkins, And His Descendants

1850 Edmond or Edmund Judkins of DeKalb County, Tennessee, was probably a son of 1823 Nathaniel Judkins of Surry County, Virginia, and Mary (Lane) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1705 Samuel[2], 1760 John[3], 1794 John[4], 1771 Benjamin[5], 1823 Nathaniel[6])

No direct documentary evidence has as yet been found identifying Edmond Judkins as a son of Nathaniel Judkins and Mary (Lane) Judkins. However, circumstantial evidence indicates that this identification is probably correct.

First, the 1810 Census for for Surry County, Virginia, listed Nathaniel Judkins with only two sons, one aged 10 to 16, indicating a date of birth between about 1794 and 1800, and one age 0 to 10, indicating a date of birth between 1800 and 1810. As set forth below, William H. Judkins has been identified as a son of Nathaniel Judkins and was born in about 1805. This indicates that if Edmond Judkins was a son of Nathaniel Judkins, then he would have been the older son born between 1794 and 1800.

Second, the 1820 Census for Surry County, Virginia, listed Nathaniel Judkins with only two sons, one aged 16 to 26, indicating a date of birth between 1794 and 1804, and one aged 16 to 18, indicating a date of birth between 1802 and 1804.

Third, as set forth below, Edmond Judkins was born between 1790 and 1800 or in about 1805 in Virginia, which is consistent with the 1810 and 1820 Census listings for the Nathaniel Judkins household.

Fourth, Edmond Judkins resided in 1832 and 1840 in Caswell County, North Carolina, and William H. Judkins also resided in Caswell County, North Carolina, until about 1837.

Fifth, Edmond Judkins resided in DeKalb County, Tennessee, and William H. Judkins also resided in DeKalb County, Tennessee, from about 1838 to about 1850.

And sixth, the children of Edmond Judkins and Zilpha (Rice) Judkins included names associated with the family of Nathaniel Judkins, including William, Henry, and Benjamin.

For these reasons, Edmond Judkins was probably a son of Nathaniel Judkins and Mary (Lane) Judkins, but further research will be required to confirm this identification. The remainder of this section will set forth the documentation that has been found for 1854 Edmond Judkins of DeKalb County, Tennessee.

D. Judkins, Smithville, Arkansas, to Miss Sarah B. Sostick, Halifax Court House Virginia dated August 11, 1850:

"Letter From Pioneer Resident Tells Of Early Days

(Editor's note: Dr. N. H Wooding of Virginia has sent his cousin, Hassell Judkins of Imboden, a copy of a letter written by S. D. Judkins in 1850. The letter was written in Smithville.)

Smithville, Ark.
August 11, 1850

Miss Sarah B. Bostick
Halifax C. H. Va.

My Dear Niece

I received your very interesting letter. I cannot express to you the satisfaction it gave me to hear that you are a Sabbath School teacher, that you have commenced so early to try to do good. Go on dear child, you will reap your reward. Your letters have always afforded me pleasure. I could discover in each letter the improvement you were making, and though I have not written to you often, I think of you and the rest of the children often, and much desire your welfare. It would hurt my feelings very much to hear that one of you were not doing well. I approve of your going to school in Greensborough if you have an opportunity of going. It is a great thing to have a good education; if you have that and enjoy health you could get along if you had no property. I am glad you do not care to marry so very young, my advice to M. A. was not to marry at all but to live single and do all the good she could as she would not have so much care on her mind, but it was her choice to marry. I think 22 or 23 is young enough to marry. I would rather she had lived single until she arrived at that age, for her health is very delicate. She and her husband are both unhealthy, they have both been sick for 3 weeks, but they have not got about. They were to see us yesterday. I think she has made a happy choice in a companion, he is very kind and affectionate to her. If they could have health I think they would do well. His parents are quite old, they have only 3 children, living and 2 dead. They and their children are all Baptists, they are not wealthy but good livers. The old gentleman has several black people, a good farm and a cotton gin that brings him a considerable income. He made eight hundred dollars by it last winter J, Ann's husband has land, a good many hogs and some cattle. He intends building this fall. They will live about 2 miles from me, near the road between Smithville and Powhatan. We live right on the road between the 2 villages. It is a very public road. The new meeting house which I mentioned in Sister Ann's letter is on the same road, M. Ann's house will be near it. I am glad to hear Marga D and the little boys are going to school. I hope they are improving very fast. My children are not going to school at this time, they have had a good school at Smithville this summer but Mr. Judkins could not spare Joseph to go. The school is to commence again the first of October. Joseph will go if he lives, perhaps Marga may go there if there is no school taught at the meeting house.

Mr. Judkins will have to go to Little Rock in November if he lives, he is elected Senator in this senatorial district composed of Lawrence and Fulton. He was a candidate only eight days before the election. There were four other democrat candidates and one Whig. He got a majority of forty or fifty vote. He did not know but one man in Dalton until he went there, that was a young gentleman that stayed all night with us last spring. It appears that he has many friends. He spoke his policy independently and did not treat at all.

The people are in high spirits here in the anticipation of a railroad from Caro at the mouth of the Ohio River to fulton on Red River by Little Rock. There has not been much sickness here this summer, the doctors get but little practice. I do not know how it may be this fall. The drought has injured corn some but there will be good crops made. This fall will be a good time here for emigrants, corn, plenty and bacon plenty although there was so much pork carried from here last winter there is a great deal of bacon for sale. This is a plentiful country. I like this part of the world better than anywhere I have lived since I married. I wish your Papa and Robert Jennings knew the advantages that Ark. possess. The people think when they get the railroad completed it will be a great thing for the State. It is thought it will come near where we live.

We are all well this tie. Sister Betty and family are well as usual. She was delighted with your letter. M. A. told me she intended to write to you shortly. Aunt Kitty says tell you howdy, and that she is well and hearty but that she sees more trouble that she did then, But I reckon she does not see any more. She speaks of seeing fires sometimes, but she is quite lively, think she is getting childish. She had rather be with children than grown people.

She loves to play with them. She says to tell Charlotte and the other black people howdy too, and tell old uncle Joe he did not stand to his promise. She wishes you to tell her about Amos in your next letter. She wants to know if he grows and how he is getting along. Tell Charlotte I love her yet and wish her well. I think a heap of Charles and Josia and do what I can for them. Charles seems to be very well satisfied, the black people all seem to be pleased except Maria and Becca, when Beca as mad she would wish she was in Halifax. I parted with her on account of her impudence and other bad conduct. She lives 8 mils from us, has a good home. She comes to see her mother. Charles sends his best love to his mother and says tell her he is eager and trying to get married but he can't get a girl to have him. Maria wanted to be sold because she did not like Ark, she said and Sister Bettie let her go. Charles sends his respects to all the black people. Mr. Judkins and the children send their love to all. Tell Bettie Ann she must not quit writting to us. My love to you and all the children. Give my respects to your Papa and Mother. Nothing more but remain your aunt until death.

Genealogy Of The Judkins Family Of Lawrence County, Arkansas, In Memory Of My Mother Pearl (Judkins) Spades, compiled by Richard Judkins Spades, included the following obituary of Sarah D. Judkins dated August 8, 1860, from the Arkansas Baptist, Little Rock, Arkansas:

> "Departed this life April 26, 1860 near Smithville, Lawrence County, Arkansas, infant daughter of William E. and M. A. Moore, aged 6 months and 13 days. The Lord gave and the Lord has taken away, blessed be the name of the Lord forever. AME

> Sister Judkins was born in Halifax County, Virginia, August 20, 1813 where she remained in marriage to William H. Judkins, and moved from thence to North Carolina, where she lived until the year 1836; she then with her husband and one child, removed to middle Tennessee, DeKalb County, where she resided till the year 1850, when with her husband and 9 children, she emigrated to Lawrence County, Arkansas.
> In the year 1854 her beloved husband was taken from her, while a Senator in the legislature at Little Rock. This sad bereavement caused her physical strength to give way, and her health began to decline - a violent cough seized her, which caused her severe suffering for 3 years; she was confined to her room for six months before her death; although her sufferings were great, yet not a murmur was heard from her lips. When her children expressed their sympathy for her, she would mildly reply, "It is nothing more than I deserve."

The subject of this notice had entertained a hope in Christ for many years: but felt that she was too unworthy, to unite with church, till the year 1856 when constrained by the Holy Spirit to go forward and express to the Church her feelings and desire to live with the people of God. Although afflictions prevented her from assembling often with the Church, yet her heart was with the brethren and sisters, and her prayers for the advancement of Christ's kingdom. New Hope Church has lost a shining light but whe shines far more brightly in glory.

A few days before her death, she seemed to all human appearance to be sinking as calmly as sinks the sun, beneath the western horizon; her friends thought she was near her eternal home, when suddenly she burst forth in strains of joyfulness and praised her Dear Redeemer. She exhorted her children and friends to meet her in heaven. She earnestly entreated those of her children who profess to follow the meek and lowly Savior, to adorn their profession by their pious walk and godly conversation.

O! may the Lord bless her remarks to the good of each individual who was present that evening. Sister Judkins leaves 9 children, two sisters and numerous other relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss; but we sorrow not as those who have no hope, for we believe our loss is her eternal gain.

On January 7, 1861, at Lawrence County, Arkansas, Probate Packets, Box J2, William E. Moore reported the sale of the land of William H. Judkins to Joseph B. Judkins and the sale of his slaves to others.

The Encyclopedia Of The New West, published by The United States Biographical Publishing Company in 1881, included the following regarding William H. Judkins in a biographical sketch of his son Joseph B. Judkins at page 187:

"HON. JOSEPH. B. JUDKINS, attorney-at-law and the present state senator from the counties of Randolph, Lawrence and Sharp, was born in Cannon (now DeKalb) county, state of Tennessee, March 1, 1837, the son of William H. Judkins, a native of Surry county, Virginia, and through the latter's father, Nathanial Judkins, descended of English stock. Mr. Judkins' father, who died in Little Rock in 1854, at the age of 51, was state senator from Lawrence and Fulton counties at the time of his death. He held the position of justice of the peace in Tennessee for many years - an uneducated man, but of uncommon ability, generous, kind and of proverbial honesty. He was an ardent temperance man, "and practiced what he preached," moral in every sense of the word and universally beloved. What an heirloom is this record to transmit to his descendants! Better far than lands and mules as a legacy. Of Senator Judkins' grandfather, the writer is unable to trace any history; nor on the paternal side has he uncle or aunt. His mother, Miss Roberts, was born in Halifax county, Virginia, in 1813, the daughter of Peter Roberts. She was a neice of Leonard D. Baker, cashier of a bank in Nashville. The family are numerous and much scattered over the South and West. She was a woman of decidedly strong character, devoted to religion, a descendant of a very wealthy family, (the Roberts), and was highly educated in Virginia, which state she left in 1855 with her husband, settling first in North Carolina and then in Caswell county, Tennessee, and in 1850 in Lawrence county, Arkansas. She instilled with unusual diligence and care, moral principles into the minds of her ten children, William H , Matha A., Joseph B., Elizabeth M., Mary S., Nathiel E., James L., Sarah C., Virginia D., and John H. L. - all of them raised in credit. John H. L. is a Baptist minister. His only living maternal aunt, is Mrs. Ann Jennings, of Halifax county, Virginia, a lady of strong intellect, accomplishments and refinement.

This record identifies William H. Judkins as a son of Nathaniel Judkins and his family as follows:

Wife: ____ (Roberts) Judkins,

Children:
1) William H. Judkins,
2) Martha A. Judkins,
3) Joseph B. Judkins,
4) Elizabeth M. Judkins,
5) Mary S. Judkins,
6) Nathaniel E. Judkins,
7) James L. Judkins,
8) Sarah C. Judkins,
9) Virginia D. Judkins, and
10) John H. L. Judkins.

Biographical And Historical Memoirs Of Northeast Arkansas, published by The Goodspeed Publishing Company in 1889, included the following about William H. Judkins in a biographical sketch of his son Joseph B. Judkins at page 708:

"Hon. Joseph B. Judkins, a name well known and respected throughout Lawrence County, was born in what is now De Kalb County, on March 1, 1837. He is a son of Hon. William H. and Sarah (Roberts) Judkins, natives of Virginia, where the elder Judkins was a farmer of considerable magnitude. The father first moved to North Carolina, and from there to the State of Tennessee, and about the year 1850 he settled in Lawrence County, Ark., where his son, Joseph B., now resides.

He was elected to the State senate of Arkansas, and was a member of that body at the time of his death, in 1854, and previous to that event had held the office of justice of the peace for twelve years. Joseph B. Judkins came to Arkansas with his father when fourteen years of age, and remained with him up to the time of his death. He then lived with his mother until he had attained his manhood, and bought the land upon which he now resides.

. . . ."

The death record of Joseph Baker Judkins dated on February 17, 1915, in Black Rock, Lawrence County, Arkansas, listed his parents as W. H. Judkins and Docia Roberts, both born in Virginia.

GenealogyBank.com listed the following in an obituary for Sallie C. McLeod dated February 20, 1925, in The Arkansas Gazette, Little Rock, Arkansas:

Deceased was a daughter of W. J. Judkins and Sarah D. Roberts Judkins, and was born in Dekalb county, Tennessee, May 15, 1847. The family came to Arkansas at an early date, locating in Lawrence county, being prominent in the affairs of that county, Mrs. McLeod being the last of a family of ten children.
. . . .
W.H. Judkins, father of Mrs. McLeod, died at Little Rock while serving as a member of the legislature from Lawrence county.

Genealogy Of The Judkins Family Of Lawrence County, Arkansas, In Memory Of My Mother Pearl (Judkins) Spades, compiled by Richard Judkins Spades, included the following biographical sketch from The Centennial Memorial History Of Lawrence County, by Walter E. McLeod, published in 1936:

"All the Judkinses that have lived in Lawrence County are descended from William H. and Sarah (Roberts) Judkins, of Virginia, who are mentioned in the McLeod family history. As there stated, the family located in the county in 1849. The father was soon elected to the state senate, and died at Little Rock in 1854 while attending to official duties. His remains were brought home in a wagon, that being the best and quickest way at that time.

The Virginia Judkins and Roberts were well-to-do- prominent people in that state, and William H, who came to this county, was a man of considerable means. He brought his negro slaves with him when he came, and with them opened up a farm and engaged in tobacco raising. He was hardly well established in his new home when death cut short his career. To him and his wife ten children were born: William H., Martha A., Joseph B., Elizabeth M., Mary E., Nathaniel E., Sally C., John H., and Jennie. Of these five lived to have families, - Martha A., wife of William Moore, Joseph B., Nathaniel (Than), who married Samarimus Borah, Sally C., wife of Simon McLeod, and John H., who married Georgia Dent. Of these only the wife of John Judkins survives (1936). He was a teacher, farmer, and Baptist Minister and died in 1882. He has one child living - Tom Judkins, of Hoxie.

J. B. Judkins (1837-1915) was the most known and prominent member of the Judkins family. He was born in Virginia and came with the family to Lawrence county at the age of thirteen or fourteen. After his father's death he was the mainstay of the family for a few years. In 1856 he began life for himself by buying 150 acres of uncleared land adjoining the family homested. He began clearing the land and built a house to which he brought his young wife, Miss Susan Ann Phillips, daughter of Alfred and Ann Phillips. By this marriage there were seven children: Alfred L., William H., Josie W., Charles F., Augustus H. G., Horace H., and David W. All but one, Augustus H. G. lived to have families, but only two, Charles F., and David W., are living at this time (1936).

In her letter dated January 26, 1988, Kathi Abendroth enclosed family group sheets prepared by Mary Dent which stated that William Judkins was a son of 1824 Nathaniel Judkins and Mary (Lane) Judkins, was born in 1803, died on December 30, 1854, and had the following children:

1) William H. Judkins,
2) Martha A. Judkins,
4) Elizabeth M. Judkins,
5) Nathaniel E. Judkins,
6) James L. Judkins,
7) John H. Judkins,
8) Mary E. Judkins,
9) Sally C. Judkins, and
10) Virginia Judkins.

Genealogy Of The Judkins Family Of Lawrence County, Arkansas, In Memory Of My Mother Pearl (Judkins) Spades, compiled by Richard Judkins Spades possibly in about 1990, included the following summary of William Henry Judkins:

"VII William Henry Judkins born 25 March, 1803 in Surry County, Virginia. His wife Sarah Dosia Roberts was born 20 Aug. 1813 in Halifax County, Virginia. They were married 22 Dec. 1830 in Halifax County.

William and Sarah left Halifax County and moved to Caswell County North Carolina. Land purchases were made by William Judkins in 1833 and 1834. Records show land sales in 1834 and 1837. The Wm. Judkins family left Caswell County and settled in DeKalb County, Tenn. prior to 1838 at which time they purchased 100 acres. William sold 164 acres to William N. Lane in Oct., 1850 and proceeded on to Lawrence County, Arkansas. (In the spring of 1990 Richard and Ina Ruth Spades visited Smithville, Dekalb County We noted 29 separate Judkins families listed in the phone directory). The land sale in Dekalb County may have been through relatives as Wm. Judkins mother was Mary Lane. It should also be noted that Wm. Judkins and Wm. N. Lane made the joint purchase of land in 1838. The next record we have of William Henry Judkins is in Lawrence County, Arkansas. The Lawrence History (1936) by Walter McLeod gives information, a letter written by his wife, Sarah Dosia Roberts to her sister in Halifax County, Va. tells a lot about their life in Arkansas. The Arkansas Gazette reported Williams Death while serving in the State Senate in December, 1854. He died at the home of Gov. Elias Conway. That home is now a part of the Arkansas Territorial Restoration and is open to the public. A grandson Charles Fisher Judkins wrote a brief history of the Judkins family as he knew it and further research reveals much accuracy in his writings.

3. Katherine Or Catherine (Judkins) Jones, Her Husband Henry Jones, And Her Descendants

Katherine or Catherine (Judkins) Jones was a daughter of 1705 Samuel Judkins of Surry County, Virginia, and Elizabeth (Pettway) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1705 Samuel[2])

The identification of Katherine or Catherine (Judkins) Jones as a daughter of 1705 Samuel Judkins is based on the following tracing of a tract of land on the east side of Gray's Creek.

First, on April 20, 1685, at Patent Deed 7/467, Samuel Jerkins and Robert Jerkins obtained a joint patent for 200 acres of land on the east side of Gray's Creek:

> "To all &c whereas &c Know ye that I the said ffrancis Lord Howard Baron of Effingham Governor &c doe wth the consent & advice of the Council of State accordingly give and grant unto Samuell Jerkins and Robert Jerkins twoe hundred acres of land situated lying and being in the County of Surry on the East side of Grays Creeke according to the most anntient and lawfull bounds thereof formerly granted Thomas Zaines decd and was lately found to Escheate to his most sacred Majtie as by an Inquisition recorded in Mr Secretaries office under the hands & seales of Mr William Randolph deputie Escheater of the said Countie & a jury sworne before him for ye purpose dated the 22th of September 1683 may appeare under same granted to the said Samuell & Robert Jerkins whoe have made their Composition according to Law. To have and to hold &c __ bee held &c yeilding & paying &c dated the 20th Aprill 1685"

Cavaliers And Pioneers, Volume Two: 1666-1695 also listed this patent to Samuell Jerkins & Robert Jerkins dated April 20, 1685, at Patent Book 7/467:

> "Samuell Jerkins & Robert Jerkins, 200 aces., Surry Col, on E. side of Gray's Cr., 20 Apr. 1685. p. 467. Granted Thomas Zaines, dec'd., & found to escheate by inquisition under Mr. William Randolph, Depty. Esch'r., &c."

Second, on May 1, 1705, at Surry County, Virginia, Court Order Book 1700-1711, page 56, the will of Samuel Judkins was probated:

> "The Last will and testament of Samuel Judkins proved by the oathes of Saml. Cook, John Blewer(?) and Morgan Lewis and a probate thereof granted Samuel Judkins Extor. thereof hee haveing made oath as the Law directs."

Although this court record indicates the proof of a will and the probate of the same, no copy of that will has as yet been found in the Surry County records, but this record indicates that Samuel Judkins was a son of 1705 Samuel Judkins.

Third, Surry County, Virginia, Deeds 1684-1733 and Other Court Papers, by William Lindsay Hopkins, stated that on November 9, 1725, at Surry County, Virginia, D.B. 7/612, Henry Jones and his wife Katherine Jones and William Dennis sold to Thomas Crews 100 acres of land on Grays Creek.

Fourth, Wills and Administrations of Surry County, Virginia 1671-1750, by Eliza Timberlake Davis, stated that the will of Thomas Crews dated January 21, 1727/28, and probated on July 17, 1728, at Surry County, W.B. 4/__, provided in part as follows:

> "To son, John Crews, a tract of land called Gray's [which I bought of Henry and Catherine Jones and Wm. Dennis and Samuel Jenkins] - 100 acres."

No record of the conveyance of the 100 acres of land from Samuel Judkins to Thomas Crews has as yet been found.

Fifth, the will of Henry Jones dated on November 14, 1733, and probated in November 1757 in North Carolina, referred to his cousin William Dennis:

> "7th I give and bequeath to my Couson William Dens a young Likely Cow and Calf . . . ."

These five records taken together trace the ownership of one-half of the 200 acres patented in 1685 from 1705 Samuel Judkins to his heirs Samuel Judkins, Katherine or Catherine (Judkins) Jones, and William Dennis and then from those heirs to Thomas Crews and then from Thomas Crews to John Crews, thereby identifying Katherine or Catherine (Judkins) Jones as a daughter of 1705 Samuel Judkins.

In his approved Jamestowne Society Application No. 8509 Colonel Buck Jones stated that Katherine Judkins was a daughter of Samuel Judkins and Elizabeth (Pettway) Judkins, was born in about 1682 in Surry County, Virginia, married Henry Jones in about 1702 in Surry County, Virginia, and died in about 1735 in Bertie County, North Carolina, that Henry Jones was born in about 1674 in Charles City County, Virginia, and his will was probated in August 1757 in Bertie County, North Carolina.

4. ____ (Judkins) Dennis, Her Husband ____ Dennis, And Her Descendants

____ (Judkins) Dennis was a daughter of 1705 Samuel Judkins of Surry County, Virginia, and Elizabeth (Pettway) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1705 Samuel[2])

The identification of ____ (Judkins) Dennis as a daughter of 1705 Samuel Judkins is based on the same tracing of a tract of land on the east side of Gray's Creek as set forth above for Katherine or Catherine (Judkins) Jones.

First, on April 20, 1685, at Patent Deed 7/467, Samuel Jerkins and Robert Jerkins obtained a joint patent for 200 acres of land on the east side of Gray's Creek:

> "To all &c whereas &c Know ye that I the said ffrancis Lord Howard Baron of Effingham Governor &c doe wth the consent & advice of the Council of State accordingly give and grant unto Samuell Jerkins and Robert Jerkins twoe hundred acres of land situated lying and being in the County of Surry on the East side of Grays Creeke according to the most anntient and lawfull bounds thereof formerly granted Thomas Zaines decd and was lately found to Escheate to his most sacred Majtie as by an Inquisition recorded in Mr Secretaries office under the hands & seales of Mr William Randolph deputie Escheater of the said Countie & a jury sworne before him for ye purpose dated the 22th of September 1683 may appeare under same granted to the said Samuell & Robert Jerkins whoe have made their Composition according to Law. To have and to hold &c __ bee held &c yeilding & paying &c dated the 20th Aprill 1685"

Cavaliers And Pioneers, Volume Two: 1666-1695 also listed this patent to Samuell Jerkins & Robert Jerkins dated April 20, 1685, at Patent Book 7/467:

"Samuell Jerkins & Robert Jerkins, 200 aces., Surry Col, on E. side of Gray's Cr., 20 Apr. 1685. p. 467. Granted Thomas Zaines, dec'd., & found to escheate by inquisition under Mr. William Randolph, Depty. Esch'r., &c."

Second, on May 1, 1705, at Surry County, Virginia, Court Order Book 1700-1711, page 56, the will of Samuel Judkins was probated:

"The Last will and testament of Samuel Judkins proved by the oathes of Saml. Cook, John Blewer(?) and Morgan Lewis and a probate thereof granted Samuel Judkins Extor. thereof hee haveing made oath as the Law directs."

Although this court record indicates the proof of a will and the probate of the same, no copy of that will has as yet been found in the Surry County records, but this record indicates that Samuel Judkins was a son of 1705 Samuel Judkins.

Third, Surry County, Virginia, Deeds 1684-1733 and Other Court Papers, by William Lindsay Hopkins, stated that on November 9, 1725, at Surry County, Virginia, D.B. 7/612, Henry Jones and his wife Katherine Jones and William Dennis sold to Thomas Crews 100 acres of land on Grays Creek.

Fourth, Wills and Administrations of Surry County, Virginia 1671-1750, by Eliza Timberlake Davis, stated that the will of Thomas Crews dated January 21, 1727/28, and probated on July 17, 1728, at Surry County, W.B. 4/__, provided in part as follows:

"To son, John Crews, a tract of land called Gray's [which I bought of Henry and Catherine Jones and Wm. Dennis and Samuel Jenkins] - 100 acres."

No record of the conveyance of the 100 acres of land from Samuel Judkins to Thomas Crews has as yet been found.

Fifth, the will of Henry Jones dated on November 14, 1733, and probated in November 1757 in North Carolina, referred to his cousin William Dennis:

"7th I give and bequeath to my Couson William Dens a young Likely Cow and Calf . . . ."

The term cousin in this case was used as nephew.

These five records taken together trace the ownership of one-half of the 200 acres patented in 1685 from 1705 Samuel Judkins to his heirs Samuel Judkins, Catherine (Judkins) Jones, and William Dennis and then from those heirs to Thomas Crews and then from Thomas Crews to John Crews, thereby identifying ____ (Judkins) Dennis as a daughter of 1705 Samuel Judkins and William Dennis as a grandson.

a. William Dennis

William Dennis was a son of ____ (Judkins) Dennis and ____ Dennis. (1672 Samuel[1], 1705 Samuel[2], ____[3])

As set forth above, the tracing of the 100 acre tract of land identifies ____ (Judkins) Dennis as a daughter of 1705 Samuel Judkins and William Dennis as a grandson and that tracing is not repeated in full here.

In her email dated May 4, 2022, Frances Cullom included a transcription of Surry County, Virginia, Deed 7/612 dated November 19, 1725, from William Dennis of North Carolina to William Gray of Surry County, Virginia, for all of William Dennis's interest in 800 cares of land:

Surry County, Virginia, Deeds 1684-1733 and Other Court Papers, by William Lindsay Hopkins, also stated that on November 9, 1725, at Surry County, Virginia, D.B. 7/612, Henry Jones and his wife Katherine Jones and William Dennis sold to Thomas Crews 100 acres of land on Grays Creek.

The will of Henry Jones dated on November 14, 1733, and probated in November 1757 in North Carolina, gave a cow and calf to his cousin William Dennis:

"7th I give and bequeath to my Couson William Dens a young Likely Cow and Calf . . . ."

The term cousin in this case was used as nephew.

B. 1693 Robert Judkins Of Surry County, Virginia, His Wife Elizabeth ( ) (Judkins) Stanton, And His Descendants

1693 Robert Judkins of Surry County, Virginia, was a son of 1672 Samuel Judkins of Surry County, Virginia, and Lydia (Gray) (Judkins) Pittman. (1672 Samuel[1])

The will of Samuel Judkins dated February 13, 1671, and probated on May 7, 1672, at Surry County, W.B. 2/13, listed Robert Judkins as one of his children:

"Samuell Judkin being Sick makes his Last will & testamt I Give my Soule to God that Gave it me & my body to ye Ground & my Land I Give to my three sons Samuell, Robert & Charles to be Equally devided amongst them & to ye heires of there Bodyes Lawfully begotten . . . ."

Colonial Surry, by John B. Boddie, listed the pardon on February 6, 1676/77, of Robert Judkins and Samuel Judkins for their part in Bacon's Rebellion:

By January 11, 1676/7 Berkeley was once more in complete control of the colony. On that date he began a series of court-martials, which resulted in the death of a large number of chief rebels and caused Charles II later on to exclaim that "the old fool had executed more men than he himself had caused to die for the death of his father, Charles I."
. . . .
On January 29, 1676/7 Col Herbert Jeffreys, Col. Francis Morrsion, and Sir John Berry, Royal Commissioners, arrived in Virginia, being appointed to investigate grievances, suppress the rebellion, and summon Sir William Berkeley back to England, relieving him of the Governorship that he had exercised so long.
[Berkeley] refused to have the Commissioners at his mansion at Green Spring, and . . . . Col. Swann offered them his hospitality at Swann's Point in Surry County. The Commissioners brought a pardon for the rebels from the King, but they could not halt the Governor's thirst for revenge, and he carried on his series of trials and executions,
. . . .
The less prominent Baconians, to the number of 40, laid hold of the King's pardon February 6, 1676/7, as indicated by the following record (Book 2, p. 149):

"We whose names are hereunto subscribed having heard and read of his Majesty's gracious and most surpassing acts of Pardon and Mercy . . . . do with all humility and earnestness implore and lay hold on his Majesty's most gracious act of pardon aforesaid . . . . and in conformity to his Majesty's royal instructions (pray it) may be entered on record.

Of the above 40 men, it is again noteworthy that practically all were from Southwark Parish.
Robert and Samuel Judkins were brothers, and step-sons of the aged Thomas Pittman, Senior, who had been a Lieutenant in the county militia.

deceased:

On July 10, 1695, at Surry County, Virginia, Court Order Book 1691-1700, page 137, the court ordered James Stanton to give security for William and Robert Judkins in connection with their father's estate:

> "Att a Court held at Southwarke for ye. County of Surry 7br: the 10th. 1695.

This record indicates that William Judkins was born before June 3, 1683, and therefore indicates that 1693 Robert Judkins and Elizabeth (____) (Judkins) Stanton were probably married before 1683.

The 1703 Tithe List for Surry County, Virginia, listed William Judkins in the Elizabeth Petteway household as one tithe on June 9, 1703:

James Stanton was also listed separately in the 1703 Tithe List for Surry County. It is unclear why Elizabeth (____) (Judkins) Stanton was listed with William Judkins under the name Petteway and this record may indicate that Elizabeth's maiden name was Pettway and that she and James Stanton had temporarily separated before June 9, 1703.

On January 16, 1716, at Surry County, Virginia, Court Order Book 1712-18/130, the following order was filed:

> "Upon the Pet. of John Jones and Elizabeth his wife It is ordered that the Sheriff summons James Stanton and Elizabeth his wife Exectrs of the last Will and Testement of Robt. Judkins Deced. to appear at the next court to answer the same petition."

The within mentioned Inventory and Appraismt: of the Estate of William Judkins Deced: thus presented by Bartlett Moreland and Margarett his wife Admrs: of the Goods and Chattels of the said Deced: were ordered to be recorded and are recorded by

Jno: Allen Cl Cur."

This record indicates that 1721 William Judkins' wife Margaret (____) Judkins had married Bartlett Moreland prior to May 5, 1721.

Wills and Administrations of Surry County, Virginia 1671-1750, by Eliza Timberlake Davis, stated that the will of Margaret Harris dated on June 7, 1721, and probated on September 20, 1721, at Surry County, Virginia, W.B. 7/366, listed Margaret, the wife of Bartlett Moreland, as her daughter and listed her granddaughter as Elizabeth Judkins:

"Harris, Margarett: Leg.- To son, John Taylor, 20 shillings. To daughter-in-law, Ann, wife of John Taylor, one pair of white gloves. To daughter, Hannah, wife of Christopher Clinch, 20 shillings and a crepe gown. To son, Edward Taylor, 20 shillings. To daughter-in-law, wife of Edward Taylor, one pair of white gloves. To daughter, Margarett, wife of Bartlett Moreland, a calico gown, petticoat and 20 shillings. To son, Thomas Taylor, 10 shillings. To daughter-in-law, Mary, wife of Thomas Taylor, a pair of white gloves. To granddaughters, Elizabeth Judkins, Elizabeth Clinch, and Margarett Taylor, to each a black silk hood. To daughter, Mary, wife of James Vaughan, my camblett hood and cloak and black silk hood, all my estate in Virginia, England or elsewhere to my daughter, wife of James Vaughan. Makes son-in-law, james Vaughan, Exer. 7 June, 1721. Prob.: 20 Sept., 1721. Wit: Wm. Gray, Wm. Seward, Thoms. Edwards. Book 7, p. 366."

This record indicates that 1721 William Judkins' wife's maiden name was Taylor and confirms that she married Bartlett Moreland after the death of William Judkins.

Surry County, Virginia, Deeds 1684-1733 and Other Court Papers, by William Lindsay Hopkins, stated that on April 14, 1730, at Surry County, Virginia, D.&W.B. 8/8 John Berriman and his wife Elizabeth Berriman sold to Samuel Judkins 50 acres of land on the east side of Gray's Creek which had belonged to Robert Judkins and was by him give to his son William Judkins and on the death of William Judkins descended to his daughters Elizabeth (Judkins) Berriman and Hannah Judkins:

"(p. 8) 14 Apr. 1730 . . . . John Berriman and wife, Elizabeth Berriman, to Samuel Judkins . . . . 50 acres in Southwarke Parish on east side of Grays Creek (being ½ of a tract which formerly belonged to Robert Judkins and by him given to his son, William Judkins, and fell from him to his two daughters, Elizabeth Judkins and Hannah Judkins) and bounded by the land Henry Hart sold to Robert Pettway and Samuel Judkins. Virginia Historical Magazine, Volume 48/360, and Southside Virginia Families, Volume II, "Judkins of Surry" stated that William Judkins married Margaret Harris in 1721 at Surry County, Virginia, had two daughters Elizabeth and Hannah, and died in 1721 at Surry County, Virginia, and that Margaret (Harris) Judkins married as her second husband Bartlett Moreland before August 16, 1721, and married as her third husband James Vaughan by 1729. However, that appears to be based on the will of Margaret Harris and her married name at the time of her death, but the listing of all of Margaret Harris's children in that will with the surname Taylor indicates that Margaret Harris's daughter Margaret was Margaret Taylor, not Margaret Harris.

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of 1721 William Judkins and Margaret (Taylor) (Judkins) Moreland were the following:

1) Elizabeth (Judkins) Berriman, and

2) Hannah Judkins.

a. Elizabeth (Judkins) Berriman And Her Husband John Berriman

Elizabeth (Judkins) Berriman was a daughter of 1721 William Judkins of Surry County, Virginia, and Margaret (Taylor) (Judkins) Moreland. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1721 William[3])

Wills and Administrations of Surry County, Virginia 1671-1750, by Eliza Timberlake Davis, stated that the will of Margaret Harris dated on June 7, 1721, and probated on September 20, 1721, at Surry County, Virginia, W.B. 7/366, listed her granddaughter as Elizabeth Judkins:

> "Harris, Margarett: Leg.- To son, John Taylor, 20 shillings. To daughter-in-law, Ann, wife of John Taylor, one pair of white gloves. To daughter, Hannah, wife of Christopher Clinch, 20 shillings and a crepe gown. To son, Edward Taylor, 20 shillings. To daughter-in-law, wife of Edward Taylor, one pair of white gloves. To daughter, Margarett, wife of Bartlett Moreland, a calico gown, petticoat and 20 shillings. To son, Thomas Taylor, 10 shillings. To daughter-in-law, Mary, wife of Thomas Taylor, a pair of white gloves. To granddaughters, Elizabeth Judkins, Elizabeth Clinch, and Margarett Taylor, to each a black silk hood. To daughter, Mary, wife of James Vaughan, my camblett hood and cloak and black silk hood, all my estate in Virginia, England or elsewhere to my daughter, wife of James Vaughan. Makes son-in-law, james Vaughan, Exer. 7 June, 1721. Prob.: 20 Sept., 1721. Wit: Wm. Gray, Wm. Seward, Thoms. Edwards. Book 7, p. 366."

On April 14, 1730, at Surry County, Virginia, D.&W.B. 8/8, John Berriman and his wife Elizabeth Berriman sold to Samuel Judkins 50 acres of land on the east side of Gray's Creek which had belonged to Robert Judkins and was by him given to his son William Judkins and on the death of William Judkins descended to his daughters Elizabeth (Judkins) Berriman and Hannah Judkins:

Virginia Historical Magazine, Volume 48/360, stated that Robert Judkins was a son of 1693 Robert Judkins of Surry County and Elizabeth (____) Judkins.

The Background of Mary Alice (Sharpe) Yalden Thomson and Alexander Beatty Sharpe, Jr., compiled by Elizabeth E. Boice Jones for Emma (Carter) (Sharpe) Zeis and published in 1940, included an autobiography of James Judkins written in 1820 which provided as follows with regard to Robert Judkins:

"A Short Family Record Which Father Judkins Left For The Satisfaction Of His Children

It is as follows, written by himself (James Judkins, son of Nicholas) in 1820:

I have understood that my great grandfather and one of his brothers came from some part of England or Wales to America some 130 or 140 years ago, about 1680, and settled near the line between Sussex and Surrey Counties in the State of Va upon Blackwater River. I think his name was John Judkins. My grandfather, whose name was Robert Judkins, lived and died there. I never saw him, though I have been there while grandmother lived.
. . . .

James Judkins

My dear father James Judkins who wrote the original of the above short record of his family, departed this life at his residence, Mt. Pleasant, Jefferson County, Ohio, on the 30th day of the 11th month, 1823, aged 53 years,* 5 months and 22 days.

William Judkins

And my dear father, died on the 7th morning, 6th month, 22nd, 1861, after an illness of about 8 months, aged nearly 73.

Rebecca E. Judkins

This family record has been copied from the original, spelling and everything.

Robert Judkins

We have no information as to whom Robert was married, or how many children were born to them. All we know as to that is that he had a son Nicholas. James, in his written statement, says he never saw his grandfather Robert, but he was there while his grandmother lived. All we know of the history of Robert is that he lived and died where his father John settled, near the line between Sussex and Surrey counties in Virginia and upon Blackwater River. It is very likely that the public records of those counties would reveal some trace of these people, or possibly some of their descendants may be living there yet. There is a Judkins family in Vermont and one in Georgia. Efforts have been made to discover the missing link, but thus far without success. Mr. H. L. Judkins of the Vermont family, residing at Marlboro, Mass., has been seeking for a complete genealogical record of the family with a view of having the same published, but at last accounts was unable to connect the two families, though he thinks they are of the same stock. He found members of the Judkins family from Maine to Georgia and as far west as the State of Washington.
. . . ."

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of 1761 Robert Judkins and Faith (Maget) Judkins:

1) William Judkins,

2) Robert Judkins,

3) John Judkins,

4) Sarah Judkins,

5) Nicholas Judkins, born in 1724, and

6) Possibly Samuel Magget Judkins.

a. 1790 William Judkins Of Sussex County, Virginia, His Wife Sarah ( ) Judkins, And His Descendants

1790 William Judkins of Sussex County, Virginia, was a son of 1761 Robert Judkins of Sussex County, Virginia, and Faith (Maget) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3])

On September 10, 1745, at Surry County, Virginia, D.B. 4/346, William Judkins purchased from Samuel Maget 100 acres of land bounded by Copahonk Swamp;

Surry County, Virginia, Deeds and Estate Accounts 1734-1755, by William Lindsay Hopkins, also listed Surry County, Virginia, D.B. 4/346 dated on September 10, 1745, to William Judkins from Samuel Maget:

"(p. 346) 10 Sep 1745 . . . . Samuel Maget to William Judkins for 14 pounds current money . . . . 100 acres bounded by Copahonk Swamp and the College Land.

Samuel Maget

Wit: John Berryman and Mary Judkins
Rec: 17 Sep 1745"

The reference to the land as adjacent to Cophank Swamp identifies the William Judkins of this record as a son of Robert Judkins, whose will referenced his land on Copahonk Swamp. The Samuel Maget of this purchase was probably the brother of Faith (Maget) Judkins and William's uncle. As set forth above, the will of Nicholas Maget listed Samuel Maget as a son of Nicholas Maget and Faith (Maget) Judkins, the wife of Robert Judkins, as a daughter.

No further record of John Judkins and Rebecca (Barker) Judkins has been found in Sussex County, Virginia, indicating that they had probably moved away from Sussex County, Virginia.

The 1800 Census for Halifax County, North Carolina, listed John Judkins with the following household:

| Name of Head of Family | Free White Males | Age | Free White Female | Age | All Other Free Persons | Slaves |

| | | | 2 | 16-26 | | |

This record indicates that Rebecca (Barker) Judkins was born before 1765 and in conjunction with the 1802 Tax List, indicates that John Judkins had probably died after 1802 and probably before 1810.

Rebecca (Barker) Judkins has not as yet been found in the 1820 Census.

The will of Rebeccah Judkins was dated on January 6, 1823, probated in November 1823, at Halifax County, North Carolina, W.B. 3/693, and provided as follows:

1) Lavinia (Judkins) Webb,
2) Lucy (Judkins) Webb,
3) Rebecca (Judkins) Gary,
4) Martha (Judkins) Hockada, and
5) Elizabeth (Judkins) Smith.

The lack of any mention of Nathaniel Judkins indicates that he had died before January 6, 1823.

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of 1802/10 John Judkins and Rebecca (Barker) Judkins were the following:

1) Nathaniel Judkins, born in about 1779 or between 1774 and 1784 in Virginia,

The will of Nathaniel Judkins was dated on November 25, 1811, probated in August 1815, at Halifax County, North Carolina, W.B. 3/572, and provided as follows:

(II) Luraney Or Lavinia (Judkins) Webb, Her Husband Kinchen Webb, And Her Descendants

Luraney or Lavinia (Judkins) Webb was a daughter of 1802/10 John Judkins of Halifax County, North Carolina, and Rebecca (Barker) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1790 William[4], 1802/10 John[5])

The 1800 Census for Halifax County, North Carolina, listed John Judkins with the following household:

| Name of Head of Family | Free White Males | Age | Free White Female | Age | All Other Free Persons | Slaves |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| John Judkins | 1 | 45+ | 1 | 26-45 | | 9 |
| | 1 | 16-26 | 1 | 16-26 | | |
| | | | 4 | 10-16 | | |
| | | | 1 | 0-10 | | |

Luraney Judkins was consistently listed first among the daughters of John Judkins and Rebecca (Barker) Judkins, indicating that she was the oldest daughter and, therefore, this record indicates that she was born between 1774 and 1784.

The 1810 Census for Halifax County, North Carolina, listed Rebekah Judkins with the following household:

| Name of Head of Family | Free White Males | Age | Free White Female | Age | All Other Free Persons | Slaves |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Rebekah Judkins | | | 1 | 45+ | | 15 |
| | | | 3 | 26-45 | | |

This record indicates that Luraney Judkins was one of the three daughters of John Judkins born between 1765 and 1784.

The 1810 Census for Greensville County, Virginia, listed Kinchen Webb with the following household:

| Name of Head of Family | Free White Males | Age | Free White Female | Age | All Other Free Persons | Slaves |

Luraney Judkins has not as yet been found in the 1820 Census.

The 1820 Census for Halifax, Hertford County, North Carolina, listed Kintchen Webb with the following household on August 7, 1820:

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | 45+ | | | | | 1 |
| 4 | 26-45 | | | | | |

This record indicates that Kinchen Webb was born before 1775. The age of the only female in the household is too young to be Luraney Judkins, indicating she had not as yet married Kinchen Webb.

The will of Rebeccah Judkins dated on January 6, 1823, and probated in November 1823, at Halifax County, North Carolina, W.B. 3/693, listed Lavinia Webb as one of her daughters:

"I Rebeccah Judkins of Halifax County North Carolina = do make and ordain this my last Will and Testament in manner and form following = First I give and devise unto my several Children Lavinia Webb, Lucy Webb, Rebeccah Gary, Martha Hockada, and Elisabeth Smith all my estate of every description to be sold and equally divided amongst them =

This record identifies the then living children of Warwick Hockaday as his son N. J. Hockaday and his daughter Elizabeth (Hockaday) Sharp, wife of James S. Sharp and indicates that his children John W. Hockaday, Mary R. Hockaday, and Thomas A. Hockaday had died before November 7, 1867.

On October 5, 1868, at Gibson County, Tennessee, Administrators Bond Book B/277, Nathaniel J. Hockaday and J. W. Sharp, and others filed their bond for appointment as executors of the will of Warwick Hockaday.

History Of Tennessee, published by The Goodspeed Publishing Company in 1887, included the following biographical sketch of Warwick Hockaday as part of a sketch of his son Nathaniel J. Hockaday:

> "Nathaniel J. Hockaday is one of ten children born to the marriage of Warwick Hockaday, who was born in North Carolina in 1783, and Martha W. Judkins, who was born in Virginia in 1786. She was taken to North Carolina when young, where she afterward met and married Mr. Hockaday, and in 1829 came with him to Tennessee, locating in Madison County, where they resided five years, and then came to Gibson County. The father was an overseer from the time he was twenty until he was forty-five years of age and was one of the ablest foremen of his day. He was a miller and farmer, and at one time owned 725 acres of land. He was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church, a Whig, and died in 1867. His wife, who was a member of the Methodist Church, died three years later. . . . ."

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of Martha W. (Judkins) Hockaday and Warwick Hockaday, Jr., were the following:

1) John W. Hockaday,

2) Nathaniel J. Hockaday, born in about 1820 or on January 1, 1821, or in about 1822 in Halifax County, North Carolina,

3) Mary R. Hockaday,

4) Elizabeth C. (Hockaday) Sharp, born in about 1826 or 1827 in North Carolina, and

5) Thomas A. Hockaday.

The will of Warwick Hockaday dated on November 7, 1867, and probated on October 5, 1868, at Gibson County, Tennessee, W.B. G/122, did not list John W. Hockaday as a surviving child, indicating that he had probably died before November 7, 1867.

(B) Nathaniel J. Hockaday, His Wife Priscilla J. (Sanderford) Hockaday, And His Descendants

Newspapers.com listed the following news article of the death of Fannie Hockaday, oldest daughter of Nat. J. Hockaday, on August 14, 1869:

"Coal Oil Accident.

A Young Lady Burned to Death and The House Set on Fire.

We scarcely pick up a paper without seeing an account of "one more" unfortunate victim of carelessness in handling the benzine usually called coal oil. It is passing strange that people will not learn that nearly all the burning fluids are as explosive as powder, and usually far more dangerous. The last number of the Trenton Gazette, dated the 14th, contains a distressing account of the sudeen and untimely death of Miss Fannie Hockaday, the eldest daughter of Nat. J. Hockaday, Esq., of Trenton, late County Trustee, and an esteemed citizen. Her death was caused by the explosion of a can of oil, which she was using at the time in attempting to kindle a fire.

Miss Hockaday was intelligent and amiable, and ordinarily very cautious, but it seems that she did not suspect the presence of fire. She had gone into the kitchen, and after placing the wood in the stove, in order to kindle the flame quickly, poured a small quantity of oil from the can upon the wood. It seems there were a few embers among the ashes, which immediately ignited and with the rapidity of powder communicated with the can of oil which she was holding in her hand. An instanteous explosion ensued, scattering the flaming contents upon her person and enveloping her body in a sheet of fire. terrified and pained by the furning fluid, she imprudently rushed into the open air, which seemed to add fury to the flames. The explosion, which we informed, was heard a mile distant, and her screams, attracted the attention of the other members of the family, who came to her relief. But the devouring element had performed its work. She lingered from Friday evening, when it occurred, until the following day, when death put an end to her sufferings, which were intense.

The fire communicated to the building, but was extinguished by Mr. Hockaday before he discovered that his daughter was in such peril. He had leaped in at a back window, which he was passing at the time, and consequently did not see his daughter, who had escaped through an opposite door."

At the age of fifteen he hired out as a salesman, and for eight years worked for one firm, driving a huxter wagon for about twelve months. In 1847 he married Priscilla J. Sandeford, who was born in Nash County, N. C., May 21, 1829. To them were born six children. Soon after his marriage Mr. Hockaday began farming, but jumped from a wagon, when the team was running away, and injured his back. He then followed merchandising for three years, but became involved, and had to return to manual labor. He has been prosperous, and now owns 500 acres of land. He has been trustee six years, and since the war has been a Democrat. He is a Methodist, and his wife and children are members of the Missionary Baptist Church."

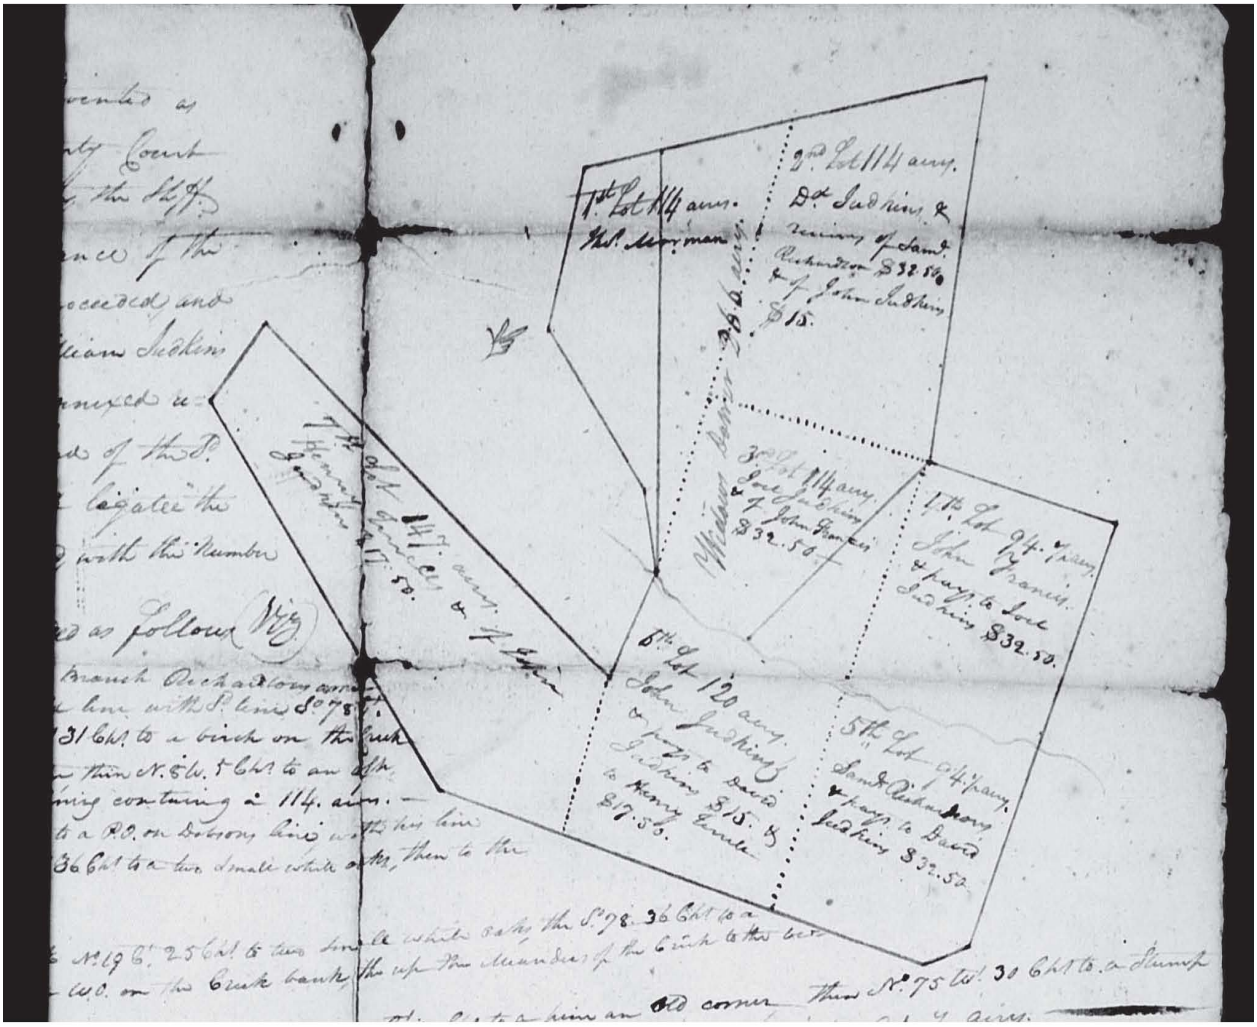
This record identifies the family of 1803 William Judkins of Iredell County, North Carolina, as follows:

Wife: Lucy (____) Judkins

Children:
1) ____ (Judkins) Moorman, wife of Thomas Moorman,
2) David Judkins,
3) Joel Judkins,
4) ____ (Judkins) Francis, wife of John Francis,
5) John Judkins,
6) ____ (Judkins) Richardson, wife of Samuel Richardson, and
7) ____ (Judkins) Terrell, wife of Henry Terrell.

The listing of Lucy Judkins, Joel Judkins, David Judkins, and Henry Terrell as legatees of 1803 William Judkins of Iredell County, North Carolina, ties this William Judkins with the William Judkins whose wife was Lucy (____) Judkins and whose sons Joel and David appeared in the Campbell County, Virginia, Personal Property Tax Lists, and whose daughter Charity married Henry Terrell in Campbell County, Virginia, in 1797. The listing of Thomas Moorman as a legatee was probably a mistake of omission. As set forth above, William Judkins' daughter Rebecca married Thomas Moorman Terrell and the partition of William Wright's land which listed Thomas Moorman probably inadvertantly left off the Terrell.

A plat from that Division and Allotment appears on the following page:



The total acreage divided and allocated amounted to 784 acres and the amount purchased in 1800 was only 350 acres, so there may be a further grant of land to William Judkins that has not as yet been found or the acreage may have simply been mis-measured.

In her letter dated January 14, 1997, Karen (Wright) Piojda enclosed a copy of a booklet titled "Joel Judkins His Book 1800 - 1807", the cover page of which was dated August 13, 1800, and which included the following receipts for the estate of William

Judkins dated in 1807:

Either the original scrivener of this deed or the person copying the deed into the Deed Book inadvertently repeated certain lines and the description of Joel Judkins as of Campbell County, Kentucky, was a mistaken duplication of the residence of James Taylor and the description of Joel Judkins as of Highland County, Ohio, would be correct.

They had the following children: Elizabeth, John E., Mary, Franklin B., Didema, Delitha and Lovina."

The History of Allen County, Ohio, published in 1885, in a biographical sketch of William Wilson Judkins stated that John D. Judkins was a son of Joel Judkins and Rebecca (Drake) Judkins, was born on October 11, 1811, and was a native of Brown County, Ohio, indicating that he was born there:

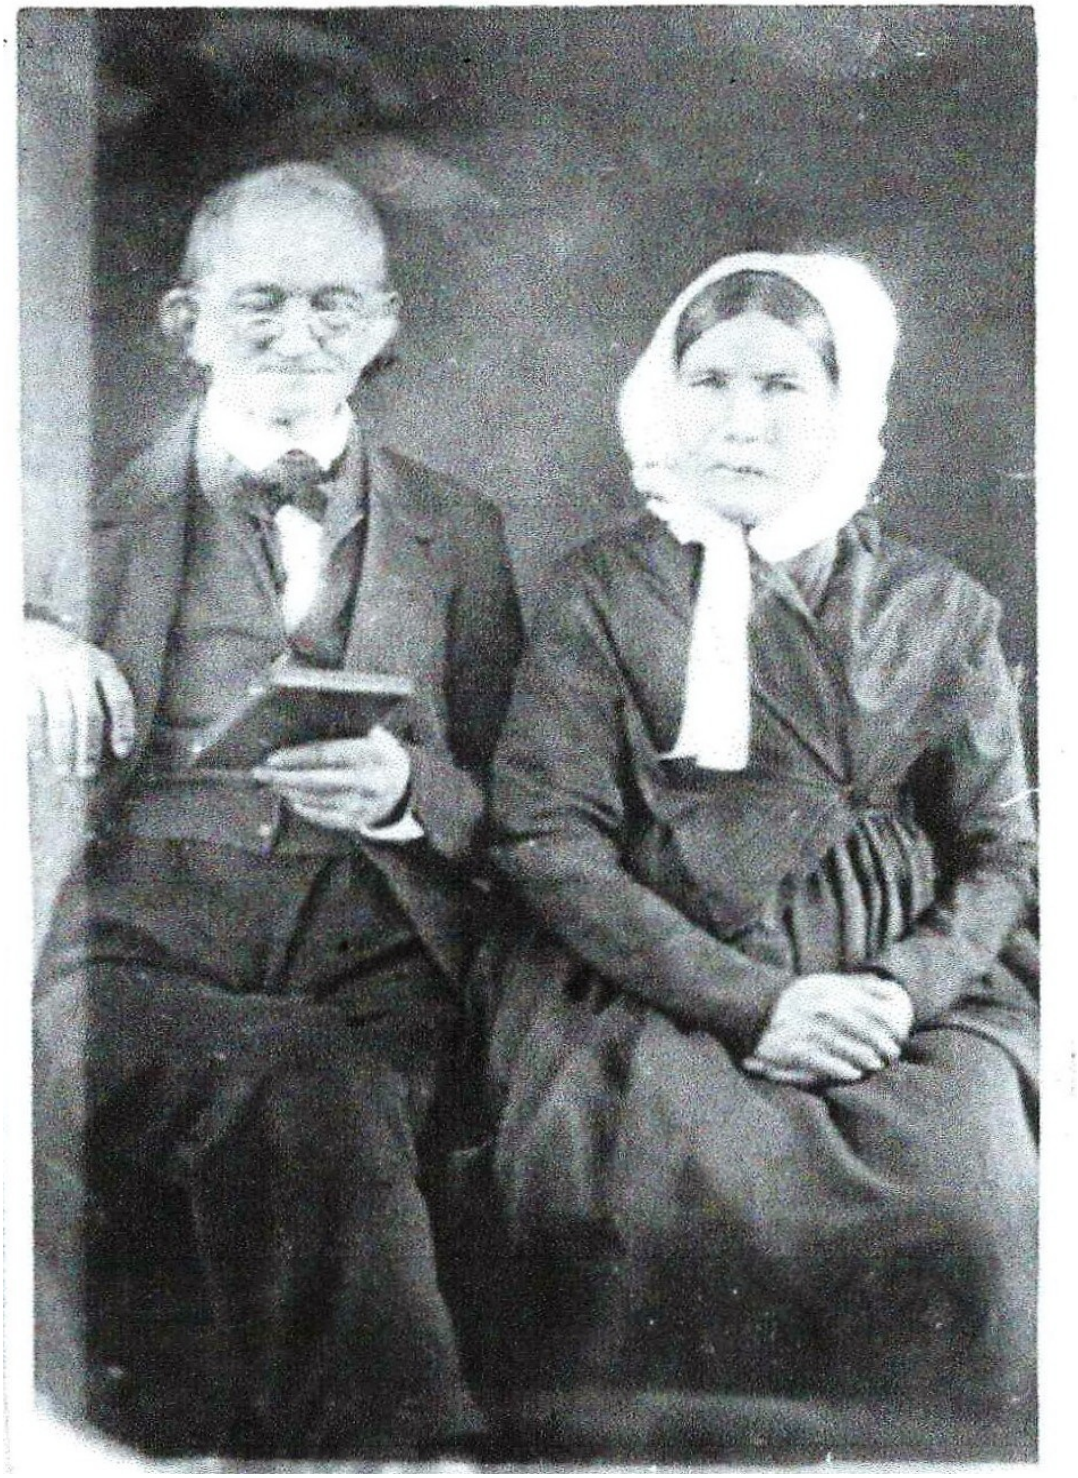
> "William Wilson Judkins, farmer, P.O. Box 77, Delphos, was born in Brown County, Ohio, January 10, 1885, son of John D. and Elizabeth (Dunham) Judkins, natives of Brown County, Ohio, former of whom was born October 11, 1811, died September 6, 1841; . . . ."

Although John D. Judkins was listed as a son of Rebecca (Drake) Judkins, Rebecca did not marry Joel Judkins until December 5, 1812, well after the listed birth of John D. Judkins. For that reason, it seems more probable that John D. Judkins was the son of Joel Judkins' first wife and was raised by Rebecca from the time he was just over 1 years old.

In his letter dated August 20, 1987, David Judkins enclosed a letter from Thurston Erwin Judkins which stated that:

> ". . . . The earliest information I have also is starting with Joel Judkins. I have his copy book which he used for account and also for mathematical problems, as he was a school teacher. This book is bound in burlap and re-enforced with news print from Staunton Va. dated 1799 on English water marked crown paper. As I understand, he moved into the area of Brown and Highland counties in southern Ohio. The next information I have is much later, starting with William Wilson of Marion Township, Allen co. who was my great-grandfather . . . ."

In her letter dated July 26, 1995, Karen Piojda enclosed a photograph of Joel Judkins and Rebecca (Drake) Judkins in the possession of Thurston E. Judkins and that photograph appears on the following page:



From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of 1859 Joel Judkins and ____ (____) Judkins were the following:

1) Elizabeth (Judkins) Reveal, born in about 1806 or 1807 in North Carolina or possibly Kentucky, and

2) John D. Judkins, born on October 11, 1811, in Ohio, and the children of 1859 Joel Judkins and Rebecca (Drake) Judkins were the following:

1) Mary (Judkins) Anthony, born in about 1815 in Ohio,

2) Franklin B. Judkins, born on July 14, 1816, in Ohio,

3) Didema (Judkins) Drake, born on February 20, 1818, or in about 1819 in Ohio,

4) Delitha (Judkins) Liggett, born on April 27 1820, or in about 1821 or 1822 in Highland County, Ohio, and

5) Lavina or Louvina or Lovina or Luvina (Judkins) Hartman, born on September 17, 1823, or in about 1824 or 1825 or 1826 in Highland County, Ohio.

Although John was listed his middle initial as "E" and as a son of Rebecca (Drake) Judkins, as set forth above, his middle initial was "D" and as set forth below, his date of birth indicates that he was a son of Joel Judkins' first marriage to ____ (____) Judkins.

The History of Allen County, Ohio, published in 1885, in a biographical sketch of William Wilson Judkins stated that John D. Judkins was a son of Joel Judkins and Rebecca (Drake) Judkins, was born on October 11, 1811, and was a native of Brown County, Ohio, indicating that he was born there:

> "William Wilson Judkins, farmer, P.O. Box 77, Delphos, was born in Brown County, Ohio, January 10, 1885, son of John D. and Elizabeth (Dunham) Judkins, natives of Brown County, Ohio, former of whom was born October 11, 1811, died September 6, 1841; . . . ."

Although John D. Judkins was listed as a son of Rebecca (Drake) Judkins, Rebecca did not marry Joel Judkins until December 5, 1812, well after the listed birth of John D. Judkins. For that reason, it seems more probable that John D. Judkins was the son of Joel Judkins' first wife ____ (____) Judkins and was raised by Rebecca from the time he was just over 1 year old.

(C) Mary (Judkins) Anthony And Her Husband Joseph P. Anthony

Mary (Judkins) Anthony was a daughter of 1859 Joel Judkins of Highland County, Ohio, and Rebecca (Drake) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1790 William[4], 1803 William[5], 1859 Joel[6])

The marriage record of Mary Judkins and Joseph P. Anthony was dated on December 24, 1829, in Highland County, Ohio:

Encyclopedia of American Quaker Genealogy, by William Wade Hinshaw, Vol V, listed the following entries for Joseph Anthony:

"Anthony

The 1860 Census for Lagro, Wabash County, Indiana, listed Joseph P. Anthony with the following household on June 1, 1860:

| Name | Age | Sex | Color | Occupation | Value of Real Estate |

| Joseph P. Anthony | 52 | M | | Carpenter | 400 |

This record indicates that Mary (Judkins) Anthony was born in about 1815 and that Joseph P. Anthony was born in about 1808.

The History Of Wabash County, Indiana, published in 1884, in a biographical sketch of James W. Drake stated in part that:

> "JAMES W. DRAKE . . . . was married, October 14, 1835, to Miss Didema Judkins, born in Highland County, Ohio, February 20, 1818. . . . . Joel Judkins, the father of Mrs. Drake, was born in Virginia September 20, 1778, and married Rebecca Drake, who was born September 20, 1788. He died March 11, 1859, and she October 13, 1862. They had the following children: Elizabeth, John E., Mary, Franklin B., Didema, Delitha and Lovina."

The marriage record of Franklin B. Judkins and Antis Caroline Dayton was dated on February 15, 1838, in Clinton County:

On August 14, 1841, at Brown County, Ohio, D.B. S18/317, Franklin B. Judkins of Highland County purchased from his parents Joel and Rebecca Judkins 25 acres of land on the East Fork of the Little Miami River in Brown County:

Apparently, both Antis Caroline (Dayton) Judkins and William J. Judkins, as administrator of the estate of Franklin B. Judkins, were using a form deed to sell the interest of both Antis and her deceased husband Franklin in the 40 acres of land to William J. Judkins.

The death record indicates that Antis Caroline (Dayton) Judkins died on March 22, 1884, but Allen County Deed 46/480 indicates that she was still alive on March 13, 1885. The probable explanation is that the death record incorrectly recorded the year of death.

(II) David Judkins And His Non-Wife Cynthia Craige

David Judkins was a son of 1803 William Judkins of Iredell County, North Carolina, and Lucy (____) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1790 William[4], 1803 William[5])

On about April 6, 1797, at Campbell County, Virginia, D.B. 4/165 David Judkins acted as a witness to a deed to his father William Judkins. If David Judkins was at least 16 years of age when he signed that deed, his date of birth would be probably before 1781.

On December 27, 1797, at Campbell County, Virginia, David Judkins acted as a witness to the marriage bond of his sister Charity Judkins and Henry Terrell.

On April 6, 1798, at Campbell County, Virginia, D.B. 4/184(?) David Judkins was a witness to a power of attorney executed by his father William Judkins.

The 1800 Personal Property Tax List for Campbell County, Virginia, on July 31 listed David Judkins as a tithable over 16 years of age. This record indicates that he was born before 1784.

On _____ at Campbell County, Virginia, Court Order Book 6/279 David Judkins was allowed his claim for two days and nights as guard over Samuel Terrell.

On July 15, 1800, at Campbell County, Virginia, D.B. 5/149 David Judkins acted as a witness to a deed executed by his parents William Judkins and Lucy (____) Judkins.

In her GenForum Posting dated April 10, 2000, Donna Pressnall stated that Abstracts of the Minutes of the Court of Pleas & Quarter Sessions, compiled by Russell Black, Jr., listed the following court order:

> "Bk. 1 pg. 257 - May session 1803 - The relinquishment of Lucy Judkins, widow of William Judkins was proved in court by John Moore. The court appoints Joel & David Judkins administrators of the estate of William Judkins dec'd., who gave bond with Reynold Allen and Wm. Bone."

On June 1, 1803 at Iredell County, North Carolina, Estate Records, an account of sales made in the estate of William Judkins was filed by Joel & David Judkins, administrators, showing sales to the Widow Judkins, David Judkins, and Joel Judkins among others amounting to 209 L, 6 S, 5 p.

On November 4, 1805, at Iredell County, North Carolina, D.B. F/164, David Judkins purchased from Robert Work, as Sheriff of Iredell County, 35 acres of land:

In her GenForum Posting dated April 10, 2000, Donna Pressnall stated that Abstracts of the Minutes of the Court of Pleas & Quarter Sessions, compiled by Russell Black, Jr., listed the following court order:

"Feb. 1811 - David Judkins gave bond to keep the county indemnified of a bastard child on the body of Cynthia Craige, with James Moore and John Francis as security."

The 1810 Census for Campbell County, Kentucky, listed a David Judkins with the oldest male aged 26 to 45, which is consistent with the birth of David Judkins, the son of William Judkins in 1778. The 1820 and 1830 Censuses listed a David Jedkin or Judkins in Vanberburgh County, Indiana, of a similar age. However, these listings were probably not for David Judkins, the son of William Judkins. A History Of Evansville And Vanderburgh County, Indiana, by Joseph Peter Elliott and published in 1897, listed the following in a biographical sketch of Daniel Stinchfield:

"After his return from his visit to Maine he met with a family of emigrants from Vermont, who had settled at Covington, Kentucky, on the opposite side of the river from Cincinnati. The family whose name was Judkins, consisted of David Judkins, his wife, Lydia, and their children, Hiram, Mahetable, Roxany, and Lewis. Roxany was then about fourteen years of age. She wished to attend school but had no books, and books in those days were hard to procure. Daniel loaned her what books he had in his possession and bought her others suitable for her studies. These little acts of kindness must have ripened into love, for they were married at Covington, Kentucky, on the 26th of May, 1816, he being in his thirty-fourth year and she in her seventeenth year."

Covington was in Campbell County in 1810 and the result is that this record indicates that the David Judkins of the 1810 Census for Campbell County, Kentucky, and the 1820 and 1830 Censuses for Vanderburgh County, Indiana, was almost certainly from Vermont rather than North Carolina. That would also be consistent with the listing of David Judkins posting a bond in Iredell County, North Carolina, in 1811.

No further record of David Judkins, the son of William Judkins, has as yet been found.

(III) Charity (Judkins) Terrell, Her Husband Henry Terrell, And Her Descendants

Charity (Judkins) Terrell was a daughter of 1803 William Judkins of Iredell County, North Carolina, and Lucy (____) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1790 William[4], 1803 William[5])

Encyclopedia of American Quaker Genealogy, Volume VI, by William Wade Hinshaw, listed the following entry for the Terrell family stating that Henry Terrell was born on August 13, 1767:

"Terrell

----, --, --. David & Sarah, Caroline Co.
Ch: Agga b 1749, 12, 17
. . . .
Henry b 1767, 8, 13

U.S. Quaker Meeting Records, 1681-1935, available from Ancestry.com, listed the removal of the Terrell family from Cedar Creek Monthly Meeting to the South River Monthly Meeting in Lynchburg, Virginia, in 1781:

"To the Monthly Meeting of Friends at South river

Common Pleas Court Records Of Highland County, Ohio 1805- 1860, compiled by David N. McBride and Jane N. McBride, listed Henry Terrell on September 22, 1811, as joining others in recommending Charles Harris to keep a tavern:

The 1820 Census for Highland County, Ohio, listed Henry Terrell with the following household on August 7, 1820:

| Names of Heads of Families | Free White Males | Age | Free White Females | Age | Foreigners |

This record indicates that Rebecca (Judkins) Terrell/Moorman was born in about 1783.

The 1860 Census for Clinton County, Ohio, listed Rebecca Morman in the Joshua Wilson household on June 13, 1860, and her age as 70 and born in Virginia, indicating a date of birth in about 1790.

In her letter dated February 14, 1995, Norman J. Pennington enclosed an excerpt from "Mark Twain's Virginia Kin", by Charles O. Paullin, Genealogies of Virginia Families, Volume I, which stated that:

> "On October 21, 1854, Jane and Orion Clemens, Pamela Clemens Moffett, and William A. Moffett sold their holdings in Mason County. They are, respectively, the mother, brother, sister, and brother-in-law of Twain . . . . It was in 1805, or the following year, that Pamela's first cousins, Thomas and John Hope Moorman, of Campbell County, Va., when on a trip to Ohio, paid her a visit. Their journal records that from Point Pleasant, the county seat of Mason County, they went 'up the Ohio River six miles to Cousin Parmela Clemens and rested there two nights and one day' (Tyler's Quarterly Historical and Genealogical Magazine, VII, 87)."

These records indicate that the Thomas Moorman Terrell who married Rebeckah Judkins was the same person as Thomas Moorman of the Division and Allotment of the land of 1803 William Judkins and the Thomas Moorman of Campbell County who visited Pamela Clemens in 1805 or 1806. Further research will be required to ascertain why he used the alternative names of Thomas Moorman Terrell and Thomas Moorman.

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of Rebecca (Judkins) Terrell or Moorman and Thomas Moorman Terrell or Thomas Moorman were the following:

1) Probably Thomas Elwood Moorman, born in about 1807 in Virginia,

2) Possibly Richmond F. Moorman, born in about 1811 or 1814 in Ohio,

3) Elizabeth J. (Moorman) Wilson, born on January 10, 1824, or in about 1825 in Van Wert County, Ohio,

4) Fountain Moorman, born in about 1823 in Ohio,

5) William Moorman, born in about 125 in Ohio, and

6) Roxanna (Moorman) Reese, born in about 1824 or 1825 or on May 16, 1827, or in about 1829 in Ohio.

(A) Probably Thomas Elwood Moorman, His Wives Sabina (Parris) Moorman And Ara Ann (Harris) (Pidgeon) Moorman, And His Descendants

Thomas Elwood Moorman was probably a son of Rebecca (Judkins) Terrell or Moorman and Thomas Moorman Terrell, also known as Thomas Moorman. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1790 William[4], 1803 William[5], Rebecca[6])

No direct documentary evidence has as yet been found identifying Thomas Elwood Moorman as a son of Rebecca (Judkins) Terrell or Moorman and Thomas Moorman Terrell. However, circumstantial evidence indicates such an identification.

First, the similarity of their names suggests a possible family connection.

Second, both resided in Clinton County, Ohio, at the same time.

Third, the 1830 Tax List for Clinton County, Ohio, listed both men immediately adjacent to each other with their land from the same entry No. 1231, from the same person William Taliaferro, and on the same Lees Creek.

And fourth, the date and place of birth of Thomas Elwood Moorman of about 1807 in Virginia is consistent with the marriage date and location of Thomas Moorman Terrell and Rebecca Judkins of November 1, 1800, in Campbell County, Virginia.

However, further documentation will be required to confirm this identification conclusively.

The marriage of Ara Ann Harris and Isaac Pidgeon was dated on January 15, 1823, in Belmont County, Ohio:

> "Isaac Pidgeon ) Warren ) Jan 11th 1823

As set forth below, Ara Ann (Harris) (Pidgeon) Moorman was the second wife of Thomas Elwood Moorman.

The marriage record of Thomas E. Moorman and Sabina Parris was dated on January 22, 1828, in Clinton County, Ohio:

> "This is to Certify that on the 22nd day of January A.D. 1828 Thomas E. Moorman and Sabina Parris of the County of Clinton were legally joined in marriage by me, a justice of the peace for the County of Clinton. Given under my hand this 7th day of March A.D. 1828.

The will of William Judkins dated October 10, 1786, and probated on September 2, 1790, at Sussex County, Virginia, W.B. E/52, listed James Judkins as one of his children:

This record indicates that Lucy (Judkins) Mason was born before about 1775. The absence of any male in the household indicates that Lucy's husband ____ Mason had probably died before August 7, 1820.

The will of Lucy Mason was dated on January 24, 1826, probated on July 2, 1829, at Sussex County, Virginia, W.B. L/174, and provided as follows:

The listing of the five daughters of 1802/10 John Judkins of Halifax County, North Carolina, as her nieces identifies Lucy (Judkins) Mason as the sister of 1802/10 John Judkins and, therefore, the daughter of 1790 William Judkins of Sussex County and Sarah (____) Judkins.

vi. Nicholas Judkins

Nicholas Judkins was a son of 1790 William Judkins of Sussex County, Virginia, and Sarah (____) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1790 William[4])

Register of Albemarle Parish, Surry and Sussex Counties 1739-1778, transcribed and edited by Gertrude R. B. Richards, listed the birth of Elisabeth Judkins, daughter of Robert and Sarah Judkins, in January 1759, in Albemarle Parish, Virginia:

Register of Albemarle Parish, Surry and Sussex Counties 1739-1778, transcribed and edited by Gertrude R. B. Richards, listed the birth of Susanna Judkins, daughter of Robert and Mary Judkins, on May 2, 1761, in Albemarle Parish, Virginia:

"Susanna d. of Robt Judkins and w. Mary; b May 2; c. May 17, 1761; gdpts. John Gibbons, Rebecca Gibbons, Sarah Judkins."

No Robert Judkins with a wife Mary has as yet been found in Surry or Sussex Counties. In addition, the godparents indicate a connection to Sarah (Gibbons) Judkins. The result is that the listing of Mary in this record may be an error by the recorder or a mis-transcription of the record which was then correctly listed by John Boddie in his work. The probability is that Susanna was the daughter of Sarah (Gibbons) Judkins and not the daughter of Mary (____) Judkins.

In her letter dated January 26, 1988, Kathi Abendroth enclosed family group sheets prepared by Mary Dent which stated that Robert Judkins was a son of 1761 Robert Judkins of Sussex County and Faith (____) Judkins, married Sarah ____, and that his will was probated on August 15, 1782, and that they had the following children:

In her letter dated January 29, 1995, Norma J. Pennington stated that Robert Judkins married Sarah Gibbons.

Births, Deaths and Sponsors 1717-1778 for Albemarle Parish Register of Surry and Sussex Counties, Virginia, by John B. Boddie, listed the birth of Elizabeth Judkins, daughter of Robert and Sarah Judkins, on January 5, 1759, in Albemarle Parish, Virginia:

ii. Susannah (Judkins) Holloway Or Halloway And Her Husband Thomas Holloway Or Halloway

Susannah (Judkins) Holloway or Halloway was a daughter of 1782 Robert Judkins of Sussex County, Virginia, and Sarah (Gibbons) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1782 Robert[4])

Births, Deaths and Sponsors 1717-1778 for Albemarle Parish Register of Surry and Sussex Counties, Virginia, by John B. Boddie, listed the birth of Susanna Judkins, daughter of Robert and Sarah Judkins, on May 2, 1761, in Albemarle Parish, Virginia:

"Robert and Sarah Judkins
. . . .
Susanna, 5/2/61, John Gibbons, Rebecca Gibbons, Sarah Judkins"

Register of Albemarle Parish, Surry and Sussex Counties 1739-1778, transcribed and edited by Gertrude R. B. Richards, listed the birth of Susanna Judkins, daughter of Robert and Mary Judkins, on May 2, 1761, in Albemarle Parish, Virginia:

"Susanna d. of Robt Judkins and w. Mary; b May 2; c. May 17, 1761; gdpts. John Gibbons, Rebecca Gibbons, Sarah Judkins."

No Robert Judkins with a wife Mary has as yet been found in Surry or Sussex Counties. In addition, the godparents indicate a connection to Sarah (Gibbons) Judkins. The result is that the listing of Mary in this record may be an error by the recorder or a mis-transcription of the record which was then correctly listed by John Boddie in his work. The probability is that Susanna was the daughter of Sarah (Gibbons) Judkins and not Mary (____) Judkins.

The will of Robert Judkins dated June 13, 1782, and probated on August 15, 1782, at Sussex County, Virginia, W.B. D/66 listed Susannah Judkins as one of his children:

". . . . Item I give unto my Daughter Susannah Judkins one Bed . . . ."

Sussex County, Virginia, Will Books A-F, 1754-1806, by William Lindsay Hopkins, stated that on September 19, 1782, at Sussex County, Virginia, W.B. D/82, the account of the estate of Rebecca Gibbons listed Susannah Judkins as a daughter of Robert Judkins and Sarah Judkins:

"p. 82) Account of Estate of Rebeca Gibbons by William Nicholson, administrator, shows payment to . . . . The will of Robert Judkins, undated and probated on February 20, 1761, at Sussex County, Virginia, W.B. A/188, listed John Judkins as one of his children:

The Background of Mary Alice (Sharpe) Yalden Thomson and Alexander Beatty Sharpe, Jr., compiled by Elizabeth E. Boice Jones for Emma (Carter) (Sharpe) Zeis and published in 1940, included an autobiography of James Judkins written in 1820 which provided as follows with regard to Nicholas Judkins:

"A Short Family Record Which Father Judkins Left For The Satisfaction Of His Children

It is as follows, written by himself (James Judkins, son of Nicholas) in 1820:

I have understood that my great grandfather and one of his brothers came from some part of England or Wales to America some 130 or 140 years ago, about 1680, and settled near the line between Sussex and Surrey Counties in the State of Va upon Blackwater River. I think his name was John Judkins. My grandfather, whose name was Robert Judkins, lived and died there. I never saw him, though I have been there while grandmother lived.

My father Nicholas Judkins was born 1724. After he became man's age, he worked considerably about being a carpenter by trade. About the 30th year of his age, he married Mary Anderson, daughter of Carolus Anderson. Whether Carolus Anderson was from Scotland or whether he had any parents in America, I have not learned, having not heard of any other of the family, in this country. I think there are none. My mother had two sisters and one brother, who died young in life. One of my aunts was married to one William Edwards and the other was married to Henche Waum. They all removed about the year 1770 to New Rivers, Onslow County in the State of North Carolina, where I expect these Edwards or their descendants are, if living. A few years after my Uncle Waum removed to Berk County on the Onechee River in the State of Georgia, except my aunt who died on the way. As I said, My father married Mary Anderson, I suppose about the year 1755 and settled on the Maherin River in Northampton County in the State of North Carolina. They had two children, Robert and Sarah who both died before I was born. After they were married notwithstanding they lived remote from Friends Meeting, yet they became convinced of the principals of Friends and lived and died respectable members of the Friends Society. My parents had eight children, the two above named and John, Jesse, myself, Joel, Faith and Carolus. My two brothers, John and Jesse died about the 22nd year of age. My father died on the 25th day of the 3rd month 1783. My mother died on the 29th day of the 12th month 1789, each of them about 60 years of age and were buried in the old burying ground where grandfather Anderson and family were buried. My father never enjoyed good health, much of the time while I knew him. It was different with my mother, who enjoyed good health generally as the climate of her birthplace agreed with her.

My dear father James Judkins who wrote the original of the above short record of his family, departed this life at his residence, Mt. Pleasant, Jefferson County, Ohio, on the 30th day of the 11th month, 1823, aged 53 years,* 5 months and 22 days.

Nicholas Judkins

Nicholas Judkins, son of Robert, was born in the year 1724. He was a carpenter by trade. When about 30 years of age he was married to Mary Anderson, the daughter of Carolus Anderson. They were married about the year 1755. They had eight children, as follows:

Robert, d. while young; b. about 1754 or 5.
Sarah, d. while young; b. about 1756 or 7.
John, d. in his 22nd year; b. about 1757 or 8.
Jesse, d. in his 22nd year; b. about 1758 or 9.
John was probably about 18 and Jesse about 16 at the time of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.
James, removed to Mt. Pleasant, Ohio; b. about 1760.
Joel, removed to Barnesville, Ohio; b. about 1762.
Faith, no record given; b. about 1764.
Carolus, removed to Barnesville; b. about 1767.

No record is given of the birth dates, but it is very probable that they were born in the order above given. James states that he was born in 1760. Carolus, who seems to have been the youngest of the family, died in 1854 aged 87. He, therefore, must have been born about 1767.

Nicholas, the husband of Mary, and father of the above named children, did not enjoy very good health, but Mary enjoyed good health generally. Fever and ague seems to have prevailed in this particular part of North Carolina then, and this fact had something, at least, to do with the removal to Ohio. Mary Anderson Judkins, wife of Nicholas, was strong in body and a woman of great energy. Mrs. Rachel Kelly says her father often spoke of his mother as a woman of great energy and industry, also of strong will power, and one who, once her mind was set on the accomplishment of any object, knew no such word as fail. She was blessed with good health, and was endowed, not only with a liberal supply of moral courage but also a very generous supply of physical courage as well. It is thought by some that these two boys died in the service during the Revolutionary War. The Military records of Virginia show that some of the Judkins were in the war.

In America Since 1607, by Walter I. Farmer and edited by Margaret Farmer Planton, included substantially the same statement by James Judkins.

In America Since 1607, by Walter I. Farmer and edited by Margaret Farmer Planton, also stated that Nicholas Judkins was the son of Robert Judkins and ____ (____) Judkins, was born in 1724 in Sussex or Surry County, Virginia, married Mary Anderson in 1755, died on March 25, 1783, and was buried in the Anderson burying ground, that Mary (Anderson) Judkins was the daughter of Carolus Anderson, died on December 29, 1789, and was buried in the Anderson burying ground, and that Nicholas Judkins and Mary (Anderson) Judkins had the following children:

1) Robert Judkins, born in 1754 or 1755,
2) Sarah Judkins, born 1755 to 1757,
3) John Judkins, born in 1757 or 1758,
4) Jesse Judkins, born in 1758 or 1759,
5) James Judkins, born on April 8, 1760, in North Carolina,
6) Joel Judkins, born about 1762,
7) Faith Judkins, born about 1764, and
8) Carolus Judkins, born about 1767.

The Judkins Journal, Volume 8, Number 3, stated that Nicholas Judkins and Mary (Anderson) Judkins were Quakers and had the following children:

1) Robert Judkins,
2) Sarah Judkins,
3) John Judkins,
4) Jesse Judkins,
5) James Judkins,
6) Joel Judkins,
7) Faith Judkins, and

8) Carolus Judkins, born about 1767 or 1768 in Northampton County, North Carolina.

Norma J. Pennington in her article in The Judkins Journal, Volume 9, Number 1, identified Nicholas Judkins as the son of 1761 Robert Judkins of Sussex County and his wife Faith (____) Judkins. That conclusion was based on the following arguments.

First, James Judkins in his 1820 declaration was unsure of the name of his great grandfather and thought it was John Judkins. However, no records have yet been found of a John Judkins in Surry County in the 1680's. The only family found so far is that of 1672 Samuel Judkins of Surry County and his sons 1705 Samuel Judkins of Surry County, 1693 Robert Judkins of Surry County, and 1710 Charles of Surry County. The uncertainty of James Judkins' identification of his great grandfather makes possible that it was 1693 Robert Judkins of Surry County rather than John Judkins.

Second, James Judkins identified his grandfather as Robert Judkins and that he died near the Blackwater River in Surry County and that he never saw his grandfather. James Judkins was born on May 8, 1760, and 1761 Robert Judkins died in 1761 in Sussex County, Virginia, which is consistent with James Judkins' story. James Judkins also stated that he was there when his grandmother lived. Faith (Maget) Judkins apparently survived her husband, which would be consistent with James Judkins' story.

Third, James Judkins was apprenticed at age 14 to Sampson Stanton. Mrs. Pennington identified that Sampson Stanton as the son of James Stanton and grandson of James Stanton, who in turn was the second husband of Elizabeth (____) (Judkins) Stanton, the widow of 1693 Robert Judkins of Surry County.

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of 1783 Nicholas Judkins and Mary (Anderson) Judkins were the following:

1) Robert Judkins, born in about 1754 or 1755,

2) Sarah Judkins, born between about 1755 and 1757,

3) John Judkins, born in about 1757 or 1758,

4) Jesse Judkins, born in about 1758 or 1759,

5) James Judkins, born on April 8, 1760, in Northampton County, North Carolina,

6) Joel Judkins, born in about 1762,

7) Carolus Judkins, born in about 1767 or 1768 in Northampton County,

North Carolina, and

8) Faith (Judkins) Parker, born in about 1774.

i. Robert Judkins

Robert Judkins was a son of 1783 Nicholas Judkins of Northampton County, North Carolina, and Mary (Anderson) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1783 Nicholas[4])

In America Since 1607, by Walter I. Farmer and edited by Margaret Farmer Planton and published in 1987, stated that Robert Judkins was a son of 1783 Nicholas Judkins and his wife Mary (Anderson) Judkins and died young.

ii. Sarah Judkins

Sarah Judkins was a daughter of 1783 Nicholas Judkins of Northampton County, North Carolina, and Mary (Anderson) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1783 Nicholas[4])

In America Since 1607, by Walter I. Farmer and edited by Margaret Farmer Planton and published in 1987, stated that Sarah Judkins was a daughter of 1783 Nicholas Judkins and his wife Mary (Anderson) Judkins and died young.

iii. John Judkins

John Judkins was a son of 1783 Nicholas Judkins of Northampton County, North Carolina, and Mary (Anderson) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1783 Nicholas[4])

The will of Nicholas Judkins dated on February 22, 1783, and probated in 1783 in Northampton County, North Carolina, listed John Judkins as one of his children:

> "Whereas I Nicholas Judkins of Northampton County . . . . do make this . . . . my last Will and Testament

Farmer and edited by Margaret Farmer Planton and published in 1987, stated that John Judkins was a son of 1783 Nicholas Judkins and his wife Mary (Anderson) Judkins and died at age 22 and may have died in the American Revolution. It is not clear on what the authors based their assertion that John Judkins died and it is clear from the will that he survived until at least February 22, 1783.

iv. Jesse Judkins

Jesse Judkins was a son of 1783 Nicholas Judkins of Northampton County, North Carolina, and Mary (Anderson) Judkins. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1783 Nicholas[4])

The will of Nicholas Judkins dated on February 22, 1783, and probated in 1783 in Northampton County, North Carolina, listed Jesse Judkins as one of his children:

"Whereas I Nicholas Judkins of Northampton County . . . . do make this . . . . my last Will and Testament . . . .

Item I do Constitute and appoint my Friends John Knox and Richard Jordan to Execute this my last Will and Testament. Witness my Hand and Seal this 22 of the 2nd Month 1783

Farmer and edited by Margaret Farmer Planton and published in 1987, stated that 1781 Jesse Judkins was a son of 1783 Nicholas Judkins and his wife Mary (Anderson) Judkins and died at age 22 and may have died in the American Revolution. It is again unclear on what the authors based their assertion that Jesse Judkins died in 1781, since the will makes clear that he survived until at least February 22, 1783.

The Background of Mary Alice (Sharpe) Yalden Thomson and Alexander Beatty Sharpe, Jr., compiled by Elizabeth E. Boice Jones for Emma (Carter) (Sharpe) Zeis and published in 1940, included the following autobiography of James Judkins written in 1820:

> It is as follows, written by himself (James Judkins, son of Nicholas) in 1820:
> . . . .
> I was born, according to accounts on the 8th day of the 4th month, 1760, and lived 14 years with my parents, during which time, I had but little good health. I had the fever and ague considerable of the time. After this time I went to a trade (hatting) with Sampson Stanton in Southampton County, Virginia, a very healthy place. At this time, I was a very curious looking person. I was very poor, my neck veins large, a large chest. I continued so for the best part of a year, after which time I became more healthy, the ague cake in my side having disappeared. While I was an apprentice I became acquainted with your mother about 9 or 10 years old. She was living with her grandfather on the same plantation. We were some times playmates. After serving my apprenticeship, I returned home and set up for myself. On the 17th of the 10th month, 1783, I was married to Martha Stanton, daughter of Sylvanus Stanton, her mother having been dead nearly 18 years. My wife's mother's maiden name was Thweart of a respectable family in Virginia. Our children were seven in number: John, Mary, William, James, Stanton, Anderson and Martha, all of whom I have raised and educated, and lived to see married. Your mother from my first acquaintance with her enjoyed good health, and for a few years before her death, she became quite fleshy, so much so that she could not wear some of her clothers, which she had a year or so back. She was a very industrious and saving disposition. In the winter of 1797, in the time of a very deep snow, she was out while we were taking care of some lambs and took a severe cold which continued to increase as long as she lived, having settled in a consumption.

I had all done that could be done without removing the complaint. On the night of the 8th day of the 10th month, 1799, in the evening, she was where the girls were milking the cows in the yard, giving some directions about her business, after which she came in, I thought as well as she had been for some time past. I went out where we had some corn to husk in the field and there had been a number of negroes collected for that purpose. They were very noisy as is common there. We got done about ten at night. I went to the house alone, there being no white person but myself there. She would have me to eat something, after which I went to bed, and she put Martha, the baby, by me. The family went up to bed. She soon got ready and came and lay down, but directly took a violent coughing, I thought more than common. She spoke to me, I rose up, the cough continued with a discharge of blood, so profuse as to come near strangling her, which continued, say one minute or more. I think she discharged at least one pint of blood, after it had subsided she was very much exhausted. I did not think it safe to leave her that night, though she never after discharged as much blood at one time. She was never able to be about after this night. She was very sensible of her approaching dissolution and gave me some very tender and affectionate advice, and was very resigned to her fate. She continued to grow weaker and weaker every day, until about 6:00 o'clock in the evening of the 14th, found she was going. I left the room, she called me. I stepped to her bedside, she raised up and took my hand, expressed some tender sentiments and quietly passed away. She was born on the 22nd day of the 2nd month 1765. We were married the 19th day of the 11th month, 1783. She departed this life on the 14th day of the 10th month, 1799, aged 34 years, 7 months, 8 days. She was buried in Friends Burying Ground at Rich Square, Northampton County, N. C.

Being left alone with a family oi little children, I found I must either break up housekeeping or get some help to raise them, and being acquainted for some considerable time with a family Jacob Parker on Bear Swamp, near Rich Square meeting, I married his daughter Abigail on the 21st of the 1st month 1801. She was born on the 22nd of the 2nd month, 1776 and was just eleven years younger than your mother who after meriting the name of an affectionate wife, a good stepmother, etc., she departed this life the 1st day of the 8th month, 1821, aged 45 years, 5 months and 9 days, leaving me five children, Sarah, Ann, Robert, Jesse and Parker, and I am spared to experience more of the trials and cares incident to our nature. What is to become of me and my charge, I cannot see. Though I have the consolation to think that after raising so many children, they, while young and able, will pay all necessary attention. I removed from Maheron in the year 1800 near Rich Square meeting and in the spring of 1805, came here to Mt. Pleasant, Jefferson County, Ohio.

My dear father James Judkins who wrote the original of the above short record of his family, departed this life at his residence, Mt. Pleasant, Jefferson County, Ohio, on the 30th day of the 11th month, 1823, aged 53 years,* 5 months and 22

The County Of Highland, by Rev. J. W. Klise and published in 1902, included a biographical sketch of Eugene S. Judkins which stated as follows with regard to James Judkins:

". . . .
For the purposes of this sketch the ancestral tree will be traced no farther back than to James Judkins, who was born April 8, 1760, in Northampton county, N. C. When fourteen years of age he was placed with Sampson Stanton of Southampton county, Va., to learn the hatter's trade, and while there became acquainted with a young girl named Martha, a grand-daughter of Sampson and daughter of Sylvanus Stanton, whose wife was a member of the noted Virginia family of Stewarts. October 19, 1783, James Judkins and Martha Stanton were married, after which event the husband returned to his native state and began business as a hat manufacturer. After becoming the mother of six children, Mrs. Judkins died at her North Carolina home, October 14, 1799, and being a member of the Society of Friends, her remains were deposited in the burying ground of that order at the town of Rich Square. January 21, 1801, James Judkins was married to Abigail Parker, and five years later located at Mount Pleasant, Ohio, where he lived until his death in November, 1823. By his second marriage he had seven children, including Robert Peel Judkins, who was born in North Carolina, September 9, 1812, and became in later life one of the eminent physicians of his name.

> "On December 4, 1827, Mr. Regans sold a half-interest [in the Ohio National Journal and Montgomery and Dayton Advertiser] to Peter P. Lowe, and the name was changed to the Dayton Journal and Advertiser. . . . After the death of Mr. Regans, Richard N. Comly bought his interest, and in July 1834, Mr. Van Cleve sold out to William F. Comly. This firm, R. N. & W. F. Comly, in 1835 removed the office to the third story of the brick building number 132 North Main Street, and afterwards to the frame building on South Main Street which was burned by the mob. They also enlarged the paper to a seven-column folio, and in December, 1840, issued a daily paper for a short time, and then a triweekly paper until May 6, 1847. Then the first number of the first volume of the Daily Journal appeared, and it has been published continuously ever since.

In 1857 R. N. Comly transferred his interest to John P. Comly, and in April 1862, after William F. Comly was appointed postmaster by president Lincoln, the paper was sold to Lewis Marot and William H. Rouzer, who owned it at the time the office was burned on the night of May 5, 1863. . . . . William F. Comly's connection with the Journal covered a period of sixty years, excepting when he was postmaster, being placed on the regular office force soon after his term of office expired, and relieved from duty only a few months before the death of Major Bickham."

An obituary of William F. Comly was published on September 5, 1904, in the Dayton Daily News, Dayton, Ohio:

"Comly

Died After an Active Newspaper Career of Over Half a Century in the Gem City.

Death Occurred in the Old Man's Home.

His Pen Played a Prominent Part in Shaping Things in Miami Valley in Pioneer Days.

Blue Blood In His Veins.

He Was a Nephew of Lord Nelson, and a Fighter for Right, Like the Breave Old Admiral - Was Postmaster in Dayton at One Time.

In the death in Cincinnati, Saturday, of William F. Comly, one of the last links is gone which connected Dayton of the present day to the Dayton of nearly three-quarters of a century ago. In the minds of the oldest residents of this city there lingers a pleasing memory of this old man. His life story is one of more than passing interest, bringing to mind as it does the infant days of the city, which is surely some better in that for more than half a century the man labored in Dayton.

Mr. Comly died in his 94th year in the Old Men's Home, Walnut Hills. He was born in Philadelphia, and in his youth came to Cincinnati, where he learned the printer's craft. Then he came to Dayton and in 1833 he and his brother were associated in the publication of the Journal, then owned by John W. Van Cleve. They bought out Van Cleve, and in 1840 began the publication of the Daily Journal, continuing until it passed into the hands of W. D. Bickham. Then Comly went to Washington for several years, where he occupied a government position, returning soon, however, to take up newspaper work in Dayton. He served as the postmaster of this city, a member and president of council, and until 1893 worked on the journal staff, 60 years after he had first taken up the pen on the paper. He was an ardent Whig and later a Republican, and with his pen he valiantly contended in the early days of the city for those things which have conspired to make it the splendid city it is today.

He was an intimate friend of Thomas Corwin, General Robert C. Schenck, Mrs. Elizabeth Turnpin, Mrs. Robert R. Dickey, Simon and Alexander Gebhart, the first named being the subjet of a biography from his facile pen.

He was a nephew of Lord Nelson, the hero of Trafalgar, and the man in all his life of intense activity seemed to have in his veins the blood of the great naval hero. Whatever he defended or commended, he did with all the energy in his scope, and in his passing those who knew him regret deeply the close of a life the living of which left the world better."

A second obituary of William F. Comly was dated on September 5, 1904, and published in The Piqua Daily Call, Piqua, Ohio:

"Death of William F. Comly.

The aged Editor, Wm. F. Comly, whom we mentioned recently as being next to William Millikan, the oldest living Ohio Editor, died last Saturday at the Old Men's Home on Walnut Hills, where he had been for the last seven years. He was long a citizen of Dayton, conducted the Journal during the Civil War, till the office was burned by a mob at the time of Vallandigham's arrest by Gen. Burnsides. After that he was made Postmaster in Dayton by President Lincoln. Mr. Comly was a most useful and estimable citizen and after having lived 94 years through the best history of the country, passed peacefully away to the land where the inhabitants never grow old."

"Fate Was Not Kind To Judkins

Death of Famous Doctor Recalls Story of His Many Troubles - Once Rich, He Died Poor

Fate's merciless pursuit of Dr. William Judkins ended Saturday with his sudden death while eating dinner with his daughter, Edith, in their apartments in the San Marco Building, Walnut Hills. Coroner Cameron found death due to cerebral hemorrhage.

Dr. Judkins was at one time one of the most eminent physicians of the city. He built up a splended practise, but later dissipated his fortune in bad investments.

Several years ago Dr. Judkins went to a sanitarium at Oxford. O. His eife, who is a member of the Anderson family, tried to have him committed to the Longview Asylum, but failed. Shortly afterward Mrs. Judkins' mind became unbalanced, and after temporary retirement to the same sanitarium at Oxford she was sent to Longview. Shortly afterward Dr. Judkins' youngest daughter, Helen, 21, lost her reason, and she, too, is now in Longview.

William Judkins, the only son, is on his way from Michigan to attend the funeral. It will be held Monday from the Friends' Meeting House ____."

In America Since 1607, by Walter I. Farmer and edited by Margaret Farmer Planton, also included the following obituary from a Flushing newspaper:

"Flushing Newspaper account of the "Death of J. P. Judkins":

The death of J. P. Judkins, one of the oldest citizens of Flushing, occurred at his home last Tuesday morning, August the second, 1898.

After many months of suffering from the infirmities of age, the weary body has lain down to rest, the spirit has returned to Him who gave it, and a home is broken up and left desolate.

Father Judkins came to this place in 1849 and although he has been for several years unable to take part in the active pursuits of life, he was for many years previous, engaged in the mercantile business. He was also postmaster for a number of years. He was honest and upright in his dealings with his fellow man, generous and social and had many friends, the majority of whom preceded him into the Unknown.

Jonathan P. Judkins was born in Mount Pleasant, Ohio, October 23rd, 1813. He was married in 1841 to Elizabeth Elliott, with whom he lived for fifty-five years. To them were born four children, two of whom, with his wife, are deceased. One son, J. E. Judkins, of Flushing, and a daughter, Mary, at home, are still living. Although feeling the affliction of a weakened body, he was ever a cheerful and pleasant companion, and until within a few years, was more like a man of sixty than of four score. His had been an active, useful life and many are the changes that he has seen wrought in this community. He was of Quaker parentage but became a member of the M.E. Church and during his life was one of its most liberal supporters."

The will of Jonathan P. Judkins was dated on February 22, 1895, probated on November 7, 1898, at Belmont County, Ohio, W.B. 18/154, and provided as follows:

"Well Deserved.

James A. Judkins, Chief of the Ott[u]mwa Fire Department, has been one of the most faithful employes the city has ever had. He has been in the employ of the city at the central fire station for nearl[y] five years and during all that time he has never been absent from his post even one day. Yesterday morning he came walking into The Democrat office -- his appearance created the greatest astonishment. This is the furthest away from the central station he has been in all the years mentioned, unless accompanied by his horse and the hose cart. He has been so faithful in the discharge of his duty that the city council have granted him the recreation he so well deserves and for a month he will be absent looking at the beautiful world to be seen outside the range of vision from the city hall. he will visit the Capital City next week and take in the State fair and so pass the time until the thirty days expire.

If there is man in the country that deserves a little rest, free from care, it is James Judkins."

John Sanford Mason (August 21, 1824 – November 29, 1897) was a career officer in the United States Army who served as a general in the Union Army during the American Civil War.[1]

Early life and career

John S. Mason was born in Steubenville, Ohio, in the late summer of 1824. His father was a prominent physician who had been a military surgeon during the War of 1812.[2] He was educated in the local schools began his college studies at Kenyon College in Gambier. In the winter of 1842, he transferred to Washington College in Pennsylvania. However, he withdrew when he received an appointment to the United States Military Academy in West Point, New York, on July 1, 1843. He graduated 9th of 38 cadets in the Class of 1847 and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the 3rd U. S. Artillery. Among his classmates were future Civil War generals A.P. Hill, Henry Heth, John Gibbon, and Ambrose Burnside.[2]

With the Mexican War raging, he was assigned to garrison duty at Tampico, Mexico, where he contracted yellow fever. After spending time in Cincinnati, Ohio, recovering, he returned to Mexico to Puebla as a commissary officer. He survived a second severe bout with yellow fever in New Orleans at the end of the war.[2] He later served in a variety of posts, including Fort Adams in Newport, Rhode Island, Fort Yuma, several garrisons in California, and finally at Fort Vancouver in the Washington Territory. He was a quartermaster from June 1854 until June 1858, and was promoted to first lieutenant in September 1860.[3]

Civil War

Lieutenant Mason was still at Fort Vancouver when news arrived in April 1861 of the outbreak of the Civil War and the bombardment of Fort Sumter in Charleston, South Carolina. After the departure of Edward O. C. Ord, Mason assumed the role of post commander at Fort Vancouver on May 7, 1861 and remained in that position until June 11, when relieved following the arrival of Capt. Henry K. Black of the 9th U.S. Infantry.[4] Later in May, he was promoted to a captaincy in the 11th U.S. Infantry.[1] In October of that year, he was appointed as the colonel of the three-years' 4th Ohio Infantry. He joined 4th OVI in western Virginia, where they served during the fall and winter under command of Maj. Gen. James Shields.[3]

In 1862, Mason's regiment participated in the Peninsula Campaign of Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan, where they guarded Harrison's Landing. He was involved in the Maryland Campaign and the Battle of Antietam. Late in the year, he commanded a brigade in Maj. Gen. John Sedgwick's II Corps' "Right Grand Division" and fought at the Battle of Fredericksburg. He was cited for gallantry in both of those actions and brevetted. On November 29, 1862, he was promoted to the rank of brigadier general of U. S. Volunteers.[3]

His health, never robust following the two yellow fever bouts, again failed him and Mason asked for and received administrative duty.[2] In April 1863, Mason was assigned to muster and recruit duty, first in Ohio (where he also commanded Camp Thomas for more than a year), and for the last two years of the war in California as an Adjutant General, and finally in the new state of Nevada. He was promoted to Major of the 17th U.S. Infantry in the Regular Army in 1864.

Mason was responsible for John Hunt Morgan and his raiders imprisoned in Columbus, OH at the time that seven escaped.[5]

From March 7, 1865 - July 21, 1865 he was commander of the District of Arizona under the Department of the Pacific.[6] In the omnibus promotions at the end of the Civil War in 1865, he was brevetted through the Regular Army grades to that of brigadier general.[1]

Postbellum career

Mason remained in the U.S. Army following the war (reverting to his Regular Army rank of major and transferring to the 35th U.S. Infantry in September 1866 as commander of the new District of Arizona). He subsequently performed garrison duty in a number of outposts on Western frontier in the 1870s and the 1880s. He was transferred to the 15th U.S. Infantry in March 1869. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel of the 4th U.S. Infantry in 1873 and to colonel of the 9th U.S. Infantry in 1883. His stations included the states and territories of Texas, New Mexico, Wyoming, Washington, D.C., Ohio, and Arizona. Mason was a cousin of President James A. Garfield's wife Lucretia and during the Garfield administration was Deputy Governor of the Soldiers Home at Washington. He was married twice, first to Anna Worrell Judkins and then to Cornelia (Keller) Wilson.[3]

Mason was active in veterans affairs, particularly in the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States.[7] He retired in 1888 as the colonel of the 9th U.S. Infantry at Fort Whipple, Arizona, and took up residence in Washington, D.C., where he died at home on November 29, 1897, from general paralysis brought about from a stroke. He was buried with full military honors in Section 1, Grave 541, of Arlington National Cemetery.[8]

One of his sons, Captain John S. Mason, Jr., perished at the army post at the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation from exposure in the line of duty, and is also buried at Arlington National Cemetery. Another son, Charles, also served in the Army.[3]

Biographical And Historical Memoirs Of Adams, Clay, Webster And Nuckolls Counties, Nebraska, published by The Goodspeed Publishing Company in 1890, included the following information regarding Abraham Dilworth and Martha (Judkins) Dilworth in a biographical sketch of Caleb James Dilworth:

> "Gen. Caleb J. Dilworth . . . . He was born in Mount Pleasant, Ohio, April 8, 1829, and is a son of Abraham Dilworth, who was born in Pennsylvania in 1793, and died in Rushville, in 1832, having settled in that State the year before, being a pioneer of Schuyler County. He was a lawyer by profession, having been admitted to the bar at Steubenville, Ohio, as early as 1829, and for some time he was in partnership with W. A. Richardson in the practice of his profession. The paternal grandfather of Gen. Dilworth, Caleb by name, was a native of Pennsylvania, and died at Mount Pleasant, Ohio, in 1832. Martha (Judkins) Dilworth, the mother of the immediate subject of this sketch, was born in Raleigh, N. C, in 1790, and died in Kansas in 1888.

. . . ."

The Background of Mary Alice (Sharpe) Yalden Thomson and Alexander Beatty Sharpe, Jr., compiled by Elizabeth E. Boice Jones for Emma (Carter) (Sharpe) Zeis and published in 1940, stated the following:

"We will now trace the records of the family of James and Martha, his first wife, and then the family of James and Abigail, his second wife.

Children of James and Martha Judkins:

vii Martha Judkins was b. in North Carolina, Mar. 23, 1799. Was m. to Abram Dilworth. After the death of Dilworth, she m. John Evans. She d. a few years ago in Illinois. Have no record of her family, but have been told that the Dilworth family of Pittsburgh, Pa., are her descendants. But am not sure that this is true.
. . . ."

Counties, Nebraska, published by The Goodspeed Publishing Company in 1890, included the following biographical sketch of Caleb James Dilworth:

> "Gen. Caleb J. Dilworth. In the history of Adams County, Neb., in its development, growth and prosperity, no man has taken a more prominent part than Mr. Dilworth. His career during life has been such as to give encouragement to young men without means, for his present competence has been gained only through his own efforts, and he is now well and favorably known throughout Adams County, where he is successfully occupied in the practice of law, being associated in business with a Mr. Smith, and his son William A. Dilworth. He was born in Mount Pleasant, Ohio, April 8, 1829, and is a son of Abraham Dilworth, who was born in Pennsylvania in 1793, and died in Rushville, in 1832, having settled in that State the year before, being a pioneer of Schuyler County. He was a lawyer by profession, having been admitted to the bar at Steubenville, Ohio, as early as 1829, and for some time he was in partnership with W. A. Richardson in the practice of his profession. The paternal grandfather of Gen. Dilworth, Caleb by name, was a native of Pennsylvania, and died at Mount Pleasant, Ohio, in 1832. Martha (Judkins) Dilworth, the mother of the immediate subject of this sketch, was born in Raleigh, N. C, in 1790, and died in Kansas in 1888. Gen. Dilworth began his legal studies at an early day, and in 1848 was admitted to the bar at Lewiston, III., where he remained practicing his profession until 1862, when he joined the Federal Army to assist in the preservation of the Union, and went into the service as lieutenant-colonel, commissioned August 27, 1865, of the Eighty-fifth Illinois Infantry; was ordered to Louisville, Ky., and until the close of the war was in the Army of the Cumberland, and participated in the following bloody battles, besides many minor engagements not mentioned: Perryville Ky., Stone River, where he was commissioned colonel of the Eighty-fifth Illinois on June 18, 1863; Chickamauga, Missionary Ridge, and while on the Atlanta campaign was in the battles of Resaca, Rome, Pumpkin Vine and Kenesaw Mountain, after which, November 15, 1864, he was commissioned brevet brigadier-general, and was assigned to the Third Brigade, Second Division, Fourteenth Army Corps, afterward taking part in the battle of Peach Tree Creek, and in the campaign ending at Jonesboro, where he was severely wounded in the neck. The winter of 1864 he spent in Chattanooga; then went to Covington, where he remained until hostilities ceased, receiving his discharge in June, 1865. He was severely wounded three times, but fearless in the discharge of his duty, a trusted and faithful commanding officer, he was beloved and respected by all. Upon his return from the war he resumed the practice of law at Lewiston, Ill., but in 1870 removed to Nebraska and located at Lincoln, two years later settling in what was then Phelps County, but still continuing his practice in the above named city. From 1873 to 1877, however, his practice was confined to Phelps County, and in 1874 he was elected district attorney for the Second Nebraska district, which then embraced the two southern tiers of counties from the Missouri River to the Colorado line. After serving in this capacity two terms, in 1878 he was elected attorney general of the State of Nebraska, discharging the duties of this office also two terms. In the month of January, 1883, he came to Hastings, and has since been a member of the legal firm of Dilworth, Smith & Dilworth, well known in Adams and many surrounding counties. Gen. Dilworth has always been a radical Republican, and has ever supported the men and measures of his party. He has been very successful in the practice of his profession, and is now one of the wealthy land holders of the State, being the owner of 2,600 acres of land in Phelps County. Wikipedia stated as follows regarding the Stapleford residence in Vermont, Fulton County, Illinois:

"Stapleford-Hoover-Whitney House

The Stapleford-Hoover-Whitney House is a historic house located at 401 North Main Street in Vermont, Illinois. Built circa 1855, the house was twice remodeled and incorporates elements of three different architectural styles. The original house was built for businessman and speculator Edward Stapleford; it had an I-house plan with a Greek Revival design, which is still reflected in its entrance and windows. Stapleford hanged himself in 1857 after going into debt via a speculation gone wrong; his wife Sarah lived in the house until 1871, when it was purchased by Dr. A. L. Hoover. Hoover, who ran a medical practice in the village, added the house's Italianate features, which included a hip roof with a bracketed cornice and two ornate porches. Merchant George F. Whitney bought the house in the 1880s; his wife and son added the Queen Anne style bay window in 1892.[2]

The house was added to the National Register of historic Places on Novembe 7, 1996.[1]"

The Background of Mary Alice (Sharpe) Yalden Thomson and Alexander Beatty Sharpe, Jr., compiled by Elizabeth E. Boice Jones for Emma (Carter) (Sharpe) Zeis and published in 1940, stated the following:

"We will now trace the records of the family of James and Martha, his first wife, and then the family of James and Abigail, his second wife.

Children of James and Martha Judkins:
. . . .
Children of James and Abigail Parker Judkins:

Abigail Johnson, dau. of Joseph and Sarah Judkins Johnson, m. Alexander Beatty of Steubenville, Ohio. Mr. Beatty was a glass manufacturer and carried on that business in Steubenville for many years. The children of Alex Beatty and Abigail Johnson Beatty are as follows:

Sarah Beatty, m. George E. Sharp. They reside in Steubenville, Ohio, and have several children, some of them grown to manhood. Mr. Sharp is the proprietor of the Ohio Valley Foundry.

Robert J. Beatty and George Beatty, sons of Alex and Abigail Johnson Beatty, succeeded their father in the glass business at Steubenville, and are now the proprietors of extensive glass works at Tiffin, Ohio, and elsewhere.

Mary Beatty, dau. of Alex and Abigail Johnson Beatty, was m. to Charles M. Rhodes at Bridgeport, Ohio, and is now the wife of J. C. Patterson of Boston, Mass., where they now reside.

In America Since 1607, by Walter I. Farmer and edited by Margaret Farmer Planton and published in 1987, stated that Sarah Judkins was a daughter of 1823 James Judkins of Jefferson County, Ohio, and Martha (Stanton) Judkins, was born on August 23, 1803, in North Carolina, moved to Mount Pleasant, Ohio, married Joseph Johnson about February 23, 1823, and had two children.

The Judkins Journal, Volume 8, Number 3, stated that Sarah Judkins was a daughter of 1823 James Judkins of Jefferson County, Ohio, and Abigail (Parker) Judkins, was born on August 23, 1803, in Rich Square, Northampton County, North Carolina, married Joseph Johnson about February 23, 1823, and that Joseph Johnson was of Steubenville, Ohio.

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of Sarah (Judkins) Johnson and Joseph Johnson were the following:

1) Abigail Ann (Johnson) Beatty, born on September 30, 1826, or in about 1827 in Mount Pleasant, Jefferson County, Ohio, and

2) James J. Johnson, born in about 1828 or 1830 or 1822 in Ohio.

(A) Abigail Ann "Abbie" (Johnson) Beatty, Her Husband Alexander John Beatty, And Her Descendants

Abigail Ann "Abbie" (Johnson) Beatty was a daughter of Sarah (Judkins) Johnson and Joseph Johnson. (1672 Samuel[1], 1693 Robert[2], 1761 Robert[3], 1783 Nicholas[4], 1823 James[5], Sarah[6])

No direct documentary evidence has as yet been found that Abigail Ann (Johnson) Beatty was the daughter of Sarah (Judkins) Johnson and Joseph Johnson. However, circumstantial evidence supports that identification.

First, Abbia A. Johnston and Alexander J. Beatty were married in 1847 in Jefferson County, Ohio, the same county in which Sarah (Judkins) Johnson and Joseph Johnson then resided, and the marriage was performed by Intrepid Morse, the same minister who married James J. Johnson, the son of Sarah (Judkins) Johnson and Joseph Johnson, in 1861 in Jefferson County, Ohio.

Second, Abigail A. Beatty and her husband Alexander J. Beatty resided immediately adjacent to Sarah (Judkins) Johnson and Joseph Johnson in the 1850 Census for Steubenville, Jefferson County, Ohio.

Third, Mary Gill Beatty was a daughter of Abigail A. (Johnson) Beatty and Alexander John Beatty and was born on October 25, 1856, in Steubenville, Jefferson County, Ohio. A Mary Gill was listed in the Sarah (Judkins) Johnson and Joseph Johnson household in the 1860 Census for Steubenville, Jefferson County, Ohio, and her age as 4 and born in Ohio. This was probably Mary Gill Beatty and her last name was inadvertently omitted by the census taker.

Fourth, James J. Johnson, the son of Sarah (Judkins) Johnson and Joseph Johnson, was a witness to the will of Abigail Ann (Johnson) Beatty written in 1871.

Fifth, one of the attendees of the funeral of James J. Johnson, the son of Sarah (Judkins) Johnson and Joseph Johnson, in 1896 was George Beatty, a son of Abigail A. (Johnson) Beatty and Alexander John Beatty.

And sixth, The Background of Mary Alice (Sharpe) Yalden Thomson and Alexander Beatty Sharpe, Jr., compiled by Elizabeth E. Boice Jones for Emma (Carter) (Sharpe) Zeis and published 1940, listed Abbie Ann Johnson, the wife of Alexander J. Beatty, as the daughter of Sarah (Judkins) Johnson and Joseph Johnson, based in part on a diary kept by Abbie Ann (Johnson) Beatty.

The marriage record of Abbia A. Johnston and Alexander J. Beatty was dated on October 21, 1847, in Jefferson County, Ohio:

Ohio: The Future Great State, by W. J. Comely and W. D. Eggville, M.D., published in 1875, included the following biographical sketch of A. J. Beatty:

"A. J. Beatty
The biography of such a man as A. J. Beatty is fraught not only with readable interest, but has a useful moral effect upon the present time and posterity. It teaches youth what industry and moral worth can achieve, and that they can hope for all things if they make honor their guide, and are prompted by honorable emulation. The subject of this sketch was born in Steubenville, Jefferson County, Ohio, November, 1811. His father and mother - Joseph and Elizabeth Beatty - both resided there during the city's infancy and early history. The early days of the subject of this biography were partially spent at school; but directly he became of size sufficient to make his labor available, and at the age of ten years, he entered a dry-goods store as a boy to do general work, which position lie kept for four years, when he entered a drug-store and learned to be a prescription drug-clerk. This he continued till 1833, when a desire for a change presented itself, together with the opportunity; so he entered the service of Mr. Torbull, in the book trade, as salesman. This business did not seem to be his exact ideal, so he made up his mind to try the grocery business, and, accordingly, acted as salesman for Mr. Andrews. This seemed to suit his taste better, for, after learning the trade, he started in the business for himself, which he managed successfully three or four years, when a taste for manufacturing compelled him to give up merchandising, and next we find him producing from the loom woolen jeans. This, in a short time, proved financially disastrous, so much so that it took Mr. Beatty twenty years to work off the indebtedness. And here we find a strong point in his character, by which he has won ultimate success. After this failure he commenced clerking for Beatty & Steelman, glass manufacturers, and remained in the position till the panic of 1857, when his employers went, with thousands of others. This presented an opportunity for A. J. Beatty to commence once more for himself; so he rented the establishment, and first conceived the idea of turning his attention to the production of one article - tumblers. We need not say that in the production of this one article it allowed him to turn out the greatest number at a minimum cost, and the plan which caused all his neighbors to laugh, proved such a success that in little or no time he was supplying manufacturers cheaper than they could produce, and from that time Mr. Beatty has been one continued success. The business to-day is five times as large as when he first launched out into it.

In 1847 Mr. Beatty married Miss Abby Johnson, who departed this life in 1871. Mr. B. has a family of four children - two sons and two daughters. The sons now have an interest and are active workers in their father's business."

Newspaperarchive.com listed the following obituary for A. J. Beatty on December 3, 1875, in the Steubenville Weekly Herald, Steubenville, Ohio:

"Death Of Mr. A. J. Beatty.

A Good Citizen Gone to His Rest.

The sad intelligence was received in this city this morning of the death of one of Steubenville's most respected citizens Mr. Alexander John Beatty, which took place at Philadelphia late yesterday afternoon. A native of Steubenville he has been identified with our city and its interests from boyhood to youth and manhood, and certainly no member of our community could be taken away whose loss would be more generally and sensibly regretted. The causes which lead to Mr. Beatty's death are yet fresh in the minds of our readers. He was returning home from his glassworks between five and six o'clock on the evening of October 6th. He was walking along the Pan Handle railroad track about one hundred feet above Franklin Avenue, carrying an umbrella over him - it was then raining slightly - when the Fast Line going East came along, striking him before he could step clear of the engine. He was thrown to one side of the track, but although unconscious and badly bruised no bones were broken and hopes were entertained of his recovery. Day by day passed on, however, and but little change was manifest; his mind had apparently received a shock by which it had been completely overbalanced. Under these circumstances his family and friends decided to have him taken to Philadelphia, where he could have the benefit of the experience of the best physicians in the country, who had made mind and brain diseases the special study of their lives. Accordingly about two weeks ago he was taken hither, and furnished with accommodations at the Pennsylvania Asylum for the Insane, under the charge of Dr. Kirkbride, Mr. Beatty being under the special care of Dr. S. Wier Mitchell, and his eldest daughter, Mrs. Geo. Sharp, attending him. Everything that skill and affection could do was done, but without avail, and Wednesday night a dispatch was received stating that no improvement was manifest, followed by the one last night announcing his death.

Mr. Beatty was born in Steubenville on November 14, 1811, consequently at the time of his death he had just entered upon his sixty-fifth year. He was baptized in infancy a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and a number of years ago he was elected a member of St. Paul's Church vestry in this city, and at the time of his death was Treasurer of the Church building fund of the same congregation. In his early life he was engaged in the woolen business in this city, but about twenty-eight years ago he became connected with the glass works then newly built by Messrs. Joseph Beatty and Edmund Stillman. In 1858 he purchased the works himself, and in 1862 very much enlarged them and made the manufacture of tumblers a specialty. To such a point was the business increased that not only were more tumblers made here than at any other factory in the world, but more than in all the rest of the United States combined. In October, 1847, he married Miss Abbie Johnston, who died in March, 1871, leaving two sons and two daughters, all of whom are living. Mr. Beatty's character among those with whom he has lived from boyhood up is so well known that it is not necessary to make any extended reference to it here. Industrious without forgetting that there was something else to live for besides business, generous without ostentation, and withal a citizen of sound judgment and discretion the void left by his death will not easily be filled. He had three brothers: George, who died in this city in 1860; David, who died in New Philadelphia thirty-two years ago, and Joseph, the present Commissioner of this county. He also had three sisters, one of whom is living at the residence of the deceased.

The remains will be brought home at 10:15 to-morrow morning on the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railway, and notice of the funeral will be given in to-morrow evening's Herald.

Mr. A. J. Beatty.

Further Particulars of His Death and Funeral.

After the death of Mr. A. J. Beatty a post mortem examination was made, showing that he had expired from fatty degeneration of the muscles of the heart. He died suddenly while walking across the floor, supported by his nurse, and dropped into the arms of his attendant. There was a clot of blood across the front of the skull towards the right side, caused by the breaking of a blood vessel at the time of the accident. Softening of the brain had already set in, and it was the opinion of the physician that even should he have recovered physically, his mind could not possibly have recovered it balance.

The funeral was very largely attended, took place from St. Paul's church yesterday afternoon, the building being packed to its full capacity. The usual service of the Church was read in an impressive manner by the rector, Rev. Thomas D. Pitts. The burial anthem was sung and also the hymn, "Rock of Ages Cleft for Me", being the same hymn used at the funeral of Mrs. Beatty. After the services all the employes of the Glass works filed up the broad aisle and down the side to take a last look at the remains of their late employer, presenting an impressive sight. They were followed by other friends of the deceased after which the remains were borne by the following pall bearers to the hearse: F. A.

Wells, Wm. Day, James H. Blinn, John Bustard, Alexander Doyle, W. R. Drake, Charles Gallagher and Joseph B. Doyle. The funeral procession was then re-formed, and preceded by the Glass house men proceeded to the cemetery, where the body was committed to the earth. The coffin was covered with black with silver handles and ornaments, and on the top lay a cross of rare hot-house flowers."

Findagrave.com listed the gravestone of A. J. Beatty in Union Cemetery, Steubenville, Jefferson County, Ohio:

Findagrave.com also listed the gravestone in Section L, Lot 6, and the burial on December 1, 1875.

The Quest, published by the Florida Chapter Ohio Genealogical Society, Inc. Newsletter, included the following article by Patricia Patterson Allen, no date, portions of which related to the family of Alexander J. Beatty:

"I Never Knew..,
By Patricia Patterson Allen

I never knew that there was a glass factory in my family until I became interested in genealogy. My research led me to Steubenville and Tiffin, as well as Columbus, Ohio. In documenting my descent to become a member of the "First Families of Jefferson County (Steubenville) Ohio", I learned that my great-great Uncle, Joseph Beatty and Edward Stillman started a glass factory in Steubenville in 1845. Their Beatty Glass Works produced fine tableware, many in opalescent colors, and tumblers (glasses).

Joseph Beatty's younger brother, my great grandfather, Alexander J. Beatty, bought the plant in 1852 and stepped up production until 160 glass workers were employed producing 36,000 tumblers a day, according to Doyle's "History of Steubenville and Jefferson County," published in 1910.

During and after the Civil War, the Beatty Glass Works led all others in the United States in glass tumbler production. It was said that Beatty "tumblered" the tables of the world. They made it possible for Americans of modest means to buy glassware which had formerly been hand-crafted and quite expensive.
. . . .
At Alexander Beatty's tragic death as the result of a train accident in 1875, his sons Robert J., 23, George, 21 and daughter, Mary Gill Beatty, 19, my grandmother, inherited the ownership of the thriving business. It was decided that Robert should go out on business trips and George and Mary would "mind the store." George worked in the factory while Mary took care of the mail, copied the orders into the order book, made out invoices and wrote business letters.

She also did the payroll. The letters and invoices were then copied in a letterpress. Mary would also go into the sample room and wash, rub, tag and mark samples.

Mary later wrote that: "I remember very clearly the puzzled and incredulous look on the faces of elderly business men from large cities when they were assured that this boyish, beardless, young man of 21 was the sole proprietor of the establishment in the absence of his elder brother, age 23. I also remember very clearly the feeling of pride and deep affection which warmed my heart while I watched George talking with these older men and winning their respectful attention."

During this period, the Beatty's resided in the old Beatty homestead--Sycamore Hill--overlooking the river. Robert and Mary later married but George remained a bachelor.

REQUIEM

Robert Beatty died in Columbus in 1914 and George Beatty died 2 years later in Columbus. They are buried in Union Cemetery in Steubenville. > "PARKER J. DUFF -
> . . . .
> The parents of Mr. Duff were John and Annie F. (Judkins) Duff; the latter is living in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania; her husband has been dead many years. The war record of Parker Duff shows one of those instances of patriotism that are the just pride of our republic. At the opening of hostilities in 1861, Parker Duff, his older brother, John C., and a younger brother, Thomas F., all enlisted in the defense of the Union, leaving their widowed mother alone at home. This patriotic mother not only urged them to go, but regretted that she had no more sons for such a cause. Thomas F. served in the navy; John C. in the 25th Ohio; was wounded at Chancellorsville, in May, 1863, and taken prisoner at Gettysburg; in July, 1863, paroled on the field, and served till close of term.

The County Of Highland, by Rev. J. W. Klise and published in 1902, included a biographical sketch of Eugene S. Judkins which stated as follows with regard to Robert Peel Judkins:

January 21, 1801, James Judkins was married to Abigail Parker, and five years later located at Mount Pleasant, Ohio, where he lived until his death in November, 1823. By his second marriage he had seven children, including Robert Peel Judkins, who was born in North Carolina, September 9, 1812, and became in later life one of the eminent physicians of his name. He graduated at the Jefferson Medical college of Philadelphia, the most famous institution of its kind in the country at that time, and in 1832 migrated to Ohio in search of a location. After spending a few years at Mount Pleasant he arrived at the village of Highland, Ohio, July 3, 1832, and the next day was drafted into service to help celebrate "the glorious Fourth" by reading the declaration of independence. Previous to this time, however, the honor of the profession and the family name had been maintained for some years at Highland by Dr. Stanton Judkins, a half-brother of Robert P. The latter lost no time in entering business at his new home and practiced his profession there continuously, with increasing popularity, both professional and personal, until the time of his lamented death, which occurred January 9, 1864. December 26, 1841, he was married to Anna B., daughter of Charles and Sarah Robbins, by whom he had four children. Gertrude, the eldest, was born November 7, 1842, married Henry W. Rayburn, a farmer now living near Chetopa, Kansas, and has five children. Emma, born in 1847, married William Harlan, a druggist of Barnesville, Ohio, subsequently moved to Kansas and has three children. Etta Bell, the youngest child of Dr. Robert P. and Anna B. Judkins, was born in 1864 and died in early life. Eugene S. Judkins, the second child and only son, was born at Highland, Ohio, in 1845, . . . ."

The County Of Highland, by Rev. J. W. Klise and published in 1902, included the following biographical sketch of Eugene S. Judkins:

> "Eugene S. Judkins, M. D., of Highland, Ohio, is the latest representative of a distinguished family of physicians who have been known for more than a century in different states. The records do not mention a time when there was not a physician in the family and there has been a Dr. Judkins at Highland since the second decade of the nineteenth century.
> . . . .
> Robert Peel Judkins . . . . December 26, 1841, he was married to Anna B., daughter of Charles and Sarah Robbins, by whom he had four children. . . . . Eugene S. Judkins, the second child and only son, was born at Highland, Ohio, in 1845, and was attending the Wesleyan university at Delaware, when his studies were interrupted by the outbreak of the civil war. Too young to be accepted as a soldier in the earlier years, he nevertheless chafed for action, like other young patriots of that day, and eventually succeeded in seeing service, which may be described as brief but brilliant. He enlisted in the One Hundred Seventy-fifth regiment Ohio volunteer infantry, which was organized in October, 1864, and sent directly to Tennessee in time to take part in the operations against Hood, which involved some of the hardest fighting of the war. The regiment lost heavily at the bloody battle of Franklin and also took part in the severe engagements at Spring Hill, Thompson's Station and Nashville. In the fall of 1865, Dr. Judkins began reading medicine under the guidance of his uncle, Dr. Jesse P. Judkins, of Cincinnati, and continued the same under other professional friends after his uncle's death. In the autumn of 1867 he entered the Miami Medical college at Cincinnati, and was graduated with the class of 1870. He first located at Toledo, but after a brief sojourn there returned to his native place, where he has since remained in the enjoyment of a large and steadily increasing patronage. When he "hung out his shingle" at New Lexington, the young doctor established himself in the old building so long occupied by his uncle, Stanton Judkins, which is one of the landmarks of the place, having been built in the first quarter of the century. The ancient door-mark, so long used by the Judkins family, now ornaments the office door of Dr. Judkins and is prized as a precious heirloom. The doctor is a prominent member of the Highland county Medical association and has done much to strengthen its efficiency and usefulness to the profession. He is not only popular in a professional way but is an influential factor in all public movements affecting his town or township, and it is not too much to say that no family in Fairfield has done more for its development than that of Dr. Judkins. A good citizen, kindly and skillful practitioner, and man who advocates progress in all departments of human endeavor, it is but a fair summary of the truth to say that Eugene S. Judkins is a worthy son of a long line of worthy sires. The father of Dr. Judkins was one of the charter members of Chosen Friend lodge, No. 45, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, which was instituted at Highland, June 21, 1845, and Dr. E. S. Judkins himself has long been a member of the same fraternity. He is also connected with the Masonic order and same fraternity. He is also connected with the Masonic order and is one of the most esteemed comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic. October 4, 1880, he was married to Mary A., daughter of John and Esther (Bankson) Savage, by whom he has an only child, Robert John Judkins, born May 5, 1887."

Newspapers.com listed the following obituary for A. A. Flannelly dated February 4, 1899, in the Kansas City Journal, Kansas City, Missouri:

> "Death Was Sudden.
> A. A. Flannelly, Former Member of the Third Regiment, Dies in His Room.
> A. A. Flannelly, an employe of the Diamond Manufacturing Company, died suddenly at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in a room on the third floor of the building at 614 Main street. Flannelly was found by another roomer in the building in a dying condition and a call was sent in for the police ambulance.

When Dr. Manahan arrived he was dead and the body was taken charge of by the coroner and sent to Carroll's undertaking establishment.

Flannelly's death was caused by acute alcoholism. He had been drinking freely for some time and kept closely in his room. He was 32 years old and was a member of the Third regiment, which was mustered out of service here last November. He was unmarried and has a brother, who is said to be quite wealthy, living at Chetopa, Kas. The latter has been notified of the sudden demise of his brother and will take charge of the remains and give them respectable burial."

Newspapers.com listed the following obituary for Austin A. Flannelly dated February 9, 1899, in the Chetopa Advance, Chetopa, Kansas:

"Death of A. A. Flannelly.

Austin A. Flannelly, formerly of this city, and abrother of J. J. Flannelly , died at Kansas City, Mo., so we learn from the Journal, last Friday. Mr. Flannelly was for many years clerk for his brother in his dry goods store. He was married to Mrs. W. T. Harlan, and moved some years ago to Topeka. He joined the 3rd Missouri regiment, and was mustered out at Kansas City last November. Prior to his death he had been an employe in the Diamond Manufacturing Co. His two brothers, Thomas of St. Louis, and William of Kansas City, and his nephew Thos. J. of this city, attended to his burial in Elmwood Cemetery near Kansas City. The Journal states that his death was caused by acute alcoholism. When Mr. Flannelly came to Chetopa he won many friends thro his affable manner and pleasant demeanor. As a salesman he had qualifications of a high order. It was a pleasure to have him wait on you. His sad death ought to be a terrible warning to those who think they can drink or let it alone. Mr. Flannelly thought so once, and tho he sprang from a fine family , was well educated, and possessed many noble traits of character, the demon of drink finally bound him hand and foot, and dragged him to a sorrowful death. We have no words of condemnation now. We can only lament his fate, and hope that the Judge who does only what is right will have mercy on his soul, and deal out justice to those who led him in the ways of intemperance."

Findagrave.com also listed the following biographical sketches of Jesse Parker Judkins:

"The following appeared in The Biographical Encyclopaedia of Ohio of the Nineteenth Century

An eminent Surgeon, was born at Mount Pleasant, Jefferson county, Ohio, in 1815. He was a half-brother of the late Dr. William Judkins, and was descended from a Quaker family, whose names have been identified with medicine for more than a century. His school and collegiate education was obtained at Cannonsburg and Steubenville, Ohio, and his medical education in the Ohio Medical College at Cincinnati, from which he graduated in 1838. In the following year he accepted, from that institution, an appointment as Demonstrator of Anatomy, at the same time opening his office in Cincinnati for the practice of his profession. In 1847 he went to Columbus to become Professor of Anatomy in Starling Medical College, which position he filled until 1852, when he accepted the Professorship of Descriptive Surgery in Miami Medical College, and returned to Cincinnati. He was afterwards changed to the department of Special Pathology, but his connection with that institution remained intact until his death, over fifteen years. In 1853 he visited Europe for the purpose of giving his attention to the study of surgery among the great lights of the old world, and passed some time in all the famous European hospitals. In 1864 the loss of his elder brother, Robert, preyed so strongly on his mind that his health was seriously affected. From this shock he never seemed to recover, and was consequently never so active in his professional duties. He was eminently successful, acquired a considerable fortune from an extraordinarily large practice, and stood in the front rank of his profession. On December 6th, 1867, at the age of fifty-three, he died of softening of the brain.

The following obituary appeared in Cincinnati Lancet and Observer, Volume 29, 1868.

Death of Prof. Jesse P. Judkins, MD

Died, in Cincinnati, December 6, 1867, after a lingering illness, Jesse P. Judkins, MD, Professor of Special Pathology, in the Miami Medical College of Cincinnati. He had been gradually failing for several months, so that his death did not take his friends so much by surprise, yet the shock was all the same, and few men have had so large a circle of deeply sincere mourners. His disease was softening of the brain.

Jesse Parker Judkins was born in the village of Mt. Pleasant, Jefferson County, Ohio, in 1815, of a Quaker family, whose names have been identified with medicine for nearly a century, and at a very early age developed a taste for mechanics, which, with a hereditary bias for the art of healing, shaped his course and directed his study toward surgery, which he finally became master of and famous in. He commenced his college education at Cannonsburg, Ohio, and finished at Steubenville, Ohio, but paid little attention to the honors of his collegiate course, contenting himself rather with acquiring a mastery of engineering and white smithing during the lapses of scholastic duty, which merely literary ambitious youths expend in polishing for commencement day. At an early age he took a deep interest in medicine and surgery, and, with the example of his father constantly before his eyes, soon acquired a degree of knowledge in the profession and art which enabled him to enter upon their study at the Ohio Medical College, in 1835, under the most flattering auspices.

He graduated in 1838, and received his degree as Doctor of Medicine. In the following year he received the high honor of an appointment as Demonstrator of Anatomy in that time-honored institution with which so many men of eminence have been identified. No circumstance in the life of the young physician could be cited which can more clearly demonstrate at once his ability and his merit than this, for it must be borne in mind that his professional elevation was in a place and at a time when such burning and shining lights as Drake, Locke, R. D. Mussey, Staughton, Shotwell and Cobb were professors and teachers.

With a modesty which excited the admiration of his seniors and won the confidence of his peers, Dr. Judkins gradually took his place in the front rank of his profession, both as a practitioner and teacher, and for many years after his first distinction he pursued a life of unremitting industry and the highest usefulness. In a word, he practiced medicine in conjunction with his duties as Demonstrator of Anatomy and became famous.

Dr. Judkins projected and delivered several private courses of lectures on anatomy in this city, and was successful in drawing to his porch a class of young men, a majority of whom have since attained distinction in medicine. His treatment of students was such as won their confidence, esteem and affection. His lecture always attracted the crowd, and, while the knowledge it contained was imparted, there accompanied it an amount of humanity that enlisted the heart and refreshed the mind. To that branch of his profession he now devoted the greater part of his time and attention, and made such advancement that, as an anatomist, he was regarded as second to none. He was called to the Starling Medical College of Columbus, as Professor of Anatomy, in the session of 1847-8, and continued there until the close of the session of 1851-2, when he accepted the Professorship of Descriptive Surgery, in the Miami Medical College of this city, at that time located in the building on the north-west corner of Central Avenue and Fifth Street. In that college he continued and labored up to the time of his death, having had his department changed to that of Special Pathology, and leaves a record which his professional associates can point to with pride and satisfaction.

In the pursuit of his culture in the higher branches of the surgical art, Dr. Judkins visited Europe early in 1853, and remained abroad over a year, during which time he visited all the famous hospitals of the Continent, and, upon his return, adopted, as a specialty, one of the most important branches of medical and surgical practice. Although possessing rare qualifications for surgery, there was something in it not altogether congenial to Dr. Judkins, and he gradually abandoned it for such branches as the art of healing entered more fully into, until the latter years of his highly useful professional life, when he abandoned mere operative surgery.

Dr. Judkins was a bachelor, and, as such, the center of a large circle of friends, whose companionship he enjoyed to the last. Among his professional brethren he was much esteemed and beloved, and by a greatness of heart and loyalty in friendship grappled them to him with hooks of steel. He was, in the highest sense, a gentleman, and stood forth a noble representative of that chivalric manhood which no time, place, or circumstance can conceal or cause to be forgotten. His look inspired confidence, and his word was the highest assurance of the most devoted and faithful performance. Dignified, yet modest, in his deportment, Dr. Judkins inspired the respect of every one with whom he came in contact, and his natural kindness of heart confirmed all his manner promised. He really endeared himself to thousands of his fellow-citizens, and his loss to them, even in a social respect, will bo irreparable.

Up to the autumn of 1863, Dr. Judkins displayed remarkable energy and led a very active life, but at that time an accident, by which one of his feet was injured, laid him up for a few weeks and somewhat impaired his health. In the January of 1864, his elder brother, Dr. Robert P. Judkins, died in Highland County, Ohio, and that event preyed upon his mind so heavily that all his intimates remarked the change. He was deeply attached to his deceased brother, and never ceased to grieve for his loss. Indeed, the bereavement affected his health, and his naturally robust constitution began to give way, until, during the past summer, he was obliged to seek rest and recuperation by a few months' residence in Mackinaw, without, however, any permanent benefit to his failing health. A few weeks ago he was prostrated, and during what proved to be his final illness, bore his affliction with exemplary patience and fortitude, and calmly sank to rest.

His funeral was attended by the Faculty and students, in a body, of both the Miami Medical College and the Medical College of Ohio; the funeral services being conducted by the Rev. Mr. Snively, of Christ Church.

At a meeting of the profession of this city, Dr. Vattier presiding, Drs. Murphy, Vattier, Tate, Richardson and Dawson were appointed a committee, who reported the following:

Dr. Judkins was successful as a general practitioner and a surgeon. In the special department to which he gave so much study, and in which he was so strong, he may well be called the Record of the West. As an anatomist and a demonstrator he had few superiors. Therefore, be it Resolved, That we bow to the decree of an all wise Providence, who has removed from us our friend and brother, Dr. Jesse P. Judkins.

His connection to dentistry was established in the History of Cincinnati and Hamilton County, Ohio, 1894 Chapter XIII, page 240.

Ohio College of Dental Surgery by H.T. Smith, DDS

The charter or the act of the Legislature of Ohio by which Ohio College of Dental Surgery came into legal existence was passed January 24, 1845, and constituted Drs. B. P. Aydelott, Robert Buchanan, Israel M. Dodge, William Johnson, J. P. Cornell, and Calvin Fletcher, of Cincinnati; Dr. G. P. Hampstead, of Portsmouth ; and Dr. Samuel Martin, of Xenia, and their successors, a board of trustees, with power to establish a college of dental surgery in the city of Cincinnati.

In the spring of 1845 the trustees met and organized by appointing B. P. Aydelott, MD, DDS, president, and Israel M. Dodge, MD, secretary. They then completed the organization of the Ohio College of Dental Surgery by the creation of the following departments: Dental anatomy and physiology, Jesse M. Cook, MD, DDS, professor; dental pathology and therapeutics, M. Rogers, MD, DDS, was elected professor; practical dentistry and pharmacy, James Tavlor, MD, DDS, professor; demonstrator of anatomy, Jesse P. Judkins, MD; Professor Taylor discharged the duties of demonstrator of practical anatomy."

The will of Jesse P. Judkins was dated on June 4, 1867, probated on December 10, 1867, at Hamilton County, Ohio, W.B. 16/231, and provided as follows:

In case of the death or remarriage of said Mary Parker the said trustees shall pay all of said profits to the support and education of said children in equal shares. When the youngest of said children shall reach the age of 21 years if a boy or 18 years if a girl, the said Trustees shall convey in fee simple the said land to the said children, who may be living at that time in equal shares.

History Of Belmont And Jefferson Counties, Ohio, compiled by J. A. Caldwell and published in 1880, included the following biographical sketch of Carolus Judkins:

> "Dr. Carrolus Jupkins, the first resident physician in Barnesville, was born in North Carolina in the year 1767. Having studied medicine he located in Virginia, near the North Carolina line, where he soon received a very lucrative practice. But detesting slavery he determined to move to the then wilds of the great West. So in the year 1810 he came to Barnesville, opened an office and at once began his eminent career as physician and surgeon. His brother Joel came with him and in the same year started the first hatter's shop in the town, on the lot where Thomas C. Judkins' drug store now stands. The town was small the country very sparsely settled; the roads new and but little beaten and many of them mere "bridle paths," rendering the cabins of the settlers difficult of access, but Dr. Judkins with that energy, perseverance and philanthropy which always so strongly marked his life, urged on in the prosecution of his profession until his business became remunerative. Besides his professional income, he had when he first came to the town invested his surplus money in the cheap lands adjacent open to entry, and they were rapidly rising in value. The circuit of his general practice had a radius of twenty miles every way about the village; and he was often called in consultation to McConnellsville, Cambridge, and Mt. Pleasant.
> About the year 1820, Dr. James Stanton, father of the late great war officer, Edwin M. Stanton, became his partner. The partnership continued two years, when Dr. Stanton located in Mt. Pleasant. While this partnership subsisted an incident occurred that finely illustrates the humanity of Dr. Judkins as physician.
> A yearly meeting of the Friends, of which denomination the Doctor was member, was in progress at Mt. Pleasant, and as their patients were none of them dangerously ill, Dr. Judkins went to Mt. Pleasant to attend the meeting, leaving Stanton in charge of the sick. Now among the sick there was an old colored man named Robert Peters, and who, when Dr. Judkins left, was in the worst condition of any of the sick. Dr. Judkins had not been in Mt. Pleasant forty-eight hours, when near sundown of the second day Stanton put in an appearance. Judkins instantly asked him about the sick. "Oh, well," said Stanton, "all out of danger but Peters and he'll die anyhow, so thought I'd come to meeting too." Judkins without saying word got his horse, mounted it and riding all night arrived at Peters' house at daylight. He found the old colored gentleman much worse: but by prompt treatment restored him to health.
> In the year 1824, Joel, the son of Dr. Judkins, became associated with him in the practice of medicine and the people to distinguish him from his son called the father the "old doctor," and from that time on he was known by no other name.

Nicholas, another son of the “old doctor, having read medicine, in 1835 became associated with his father and brother in its practice. This partnership continued until the death of Joel in 1839; but the practice was carried on by the remaining members of the firm until 1840, when the “old doctor" withdrew from active service, leaving Nicholas alone to practice the profession. In 1845, Dr. Nicholas Judkins retired from the practice to devote his talents to other business.

Those Drs. Judkins were members of that family of Judkins scattered so numerously over the West and South. Many of that family have adorned and shed lustre upon the medical profession, and all of which have been so successful in wielding the mysteries of the healing art that it has become a proverb among the people — “that to be born a Judkins is to be born doctor."

During the long professional career of the “old doctor several other physicians located at Barnesville or “native to the manor born" rose up in her midst to practice medicine. All of them were successively greeted with kind and hearty welcome by the “old doctor” and his sons. Being conscious of their own abilities and secure in the confidence of the people and naturally above envy they extended a helping hand to all brother physicians who made their advent among them.

The “Old Doctor” was born in the Friends Communion, and continued to fellowship with that sect until the division occasioned by Elias Hicks occurred. He adopted the views of Hicks, but ceased to worship with either branch of the divided denomination. He died October 24, 1854, in the 87th year of his age, and was buried at the Friends Stillwater burial ground."

Centennial History Of Belmont County, Ohio, And Representative Citizens, compiled by A. T. McKelvey and published in 1903, included the following biographical sketch of Carolus Judkins:

"Dr. Carolus Judkins

In the practice of medicine, as of law, the first representatives of the profession came from the Southern States. Dr. Carolus Judkins was a member of the Society of Friends, and engaged in the practice of medicine in Virginia. But his detestation of slavery impelled him to seek a home in Ohio. In 1810 he came to Barnesville and entered upon a career as a physician and surgeon that won him a widespread reputation.

The circuit of his practice extended over a radius of 20 miles, in the pursuit of which he traveled over dangerous bridle-paths and through dense forests, carrying his medical case in his saddle bags.

In 1820 Dr. Judkins associated with him Dr. James Stanton, the father of the eminent Secretary of War. Subsequently his two sons, Joel and Nicholas, became associated with him in practice. The children and grandchildren of this illustrious physician have been and are today prominent and successful in the practice of medicine in Barnesville."

The Background of Mary Alice (Sharpe) Yalden Thomson and Alexander Beatty Sharpe, Jr., compiled by Elizabeth E. Boice Jones for Emma (Carter) (Sharpe) Zeis and published in 1940, included the following regarding Carolus Judkins:

". . . .
Carolus, son of Nicholas and Mary Anderson Judkins and a brother of James and Joel before named, was born in North Carolina or Virginia, about the year 1767. He married Charity Peele, the daughter of Jeremiah and Elizabeth Peele. From the record as given by James, Carolus seems to have been the youngest of the family. He removed to Barnesville early in the 19th century, probably about 1808 or 1810.

He died in the year 1854 in his 87th year and was buried at the Stillwater burying ground about one mile east of Barnesville, Ohio.

Charity Peele Judkins, wife of Dr. Carolus Judkins, was born in North Carolina or Virginia about 1776. Jeremiah and Elizabeth Peele, her parents, both died while Charity was yet a child, and both she and her little brother were adopted by some of her relatives. Possibly for this reason we have no record of her immediate family. There were but two children in the family Charity and a brother. The brother lived to manhood and was in Barnesville a good many years ago when he was a young man and on his way to the west. Where he settled or what his subsequent history was, is unknown to the writer. That Charity and her brother were descendants of the very numerous family of Peeles, many of whose descendants are yet residing in and about Rich Square, North Carolina, there is no doubt, but the precise relationship is unknown to the writer. She died at Barnesville, Ohio, on Apr. 29, 1856. To Carolus and Charity Peele Judkins were born the following named children, Thomas, Jesse, Joel, James, Anderson, Nicholas, Elizabeth, Rachel and William, all of whom, except Rachel, are dead. To the best of the knowledge and belief of the writer, Rachel Kelly is the last survivor of her generation.
